APPROVES NEW NEUTRALITY BILL

State Makes New Offer on W. 4th Grade

GIVES COUNTY 3 YEARS TO PAY INSTEAD OF 2

Beightler Says Agreement on Route 30 Project Must Be Reached Within 10 Days.

BOARD STUDIES PROPOSAL

Commissioners Ready to Put Up $50,000 But Sought 5 Years to Meet Share.

County commissioners were considering a new offer from the state highway department today on the route 30N grade elimination project west of the city, giving the county three years instead of two in which to provide a $50,000 share of the cost.

C. L. Mitchell, chairman of the board of commissioners, said the offer was "about the same as the other except that it adds a year to the time limit."

Commissioners previously turned down the state's two-year time limit by a vote of two to one, but agreed to provide the $50,000. The former offer asked the county to provide for a five-year period in which to pay.

The matter was considered closed, at least temporarily, when Robert S. Beightler, state highway director, made the new offer in a letter to the commissioners.

Sees Indefinite Delay.

Beightler's letter said that unless the work on the $600,000 grade project is scheduled within the next week or 10 days and is included in the present work schedule, there may be an indefinite postponement.

The highway director invited the county officials and other persons interested in the project to meet in his office in Columbus to decide the matter. He said if the offer is accepted, the county will not have to make its first payment until 1940.

"We want to be reasonable," Beightler said. "We want to extend every bit of co-operation possible to municipal and county authorities, but there are limits to which we can go and those limits are not of our own making. All of the projects before us have to be fitted into a budget and that necessitates some close figuring."

The director pointed out that both the Erie underpass and the B. and O. overhead project must be done at once under the state's set-up.

"It so happens that one project

12 Hurt, One Seriously, In 4 Accidents

7 Pupils of Kindergarten Bruised When Cars Collide In City.

Twelve persons, including seven school children, were injured yesterday and last night in four different accidents. Only one, a Loudonville man was injured seriously.

Clyde Strine, 32, sustained a fractured arm and head injuries in a collision at 3 a. m. today on U. S. route 30, four miles east of Mansfield. He is in General hospital.

State highway patrolmen said Strine's automobile collided head-on with a machine driven by Richard M. McKinney, 27, of 49 Pleasant avenue. McKinley was treated at the hospital for lacerations. Six other persons with McKinney escaped injury.

In another accident yesterday afternoon, seven small school children were slightly bruised and cut when the car in which they were riding figured in a collision at West Sixth street and Rowland avenue.

En Route To Homes.

Police said the machine driven by William Dow, 533 Park avenue west, who was transporting eight children to their homes collided with a car driven by Earl Gilbert of 61 Atcheson avenue. Only one of the children escaped injury. The children were all pupils at a Mansfield kindergarten.

Miss Betty Downs, R. D. 1, Mansfield, was treated for bruises sustained when she was struck by an automobile while crossing East Fourth street at Diamond street yesterday afternoon. Police said the machine was driven by Frank Potter, of R. D. 3, Mansfield.

Sheriffs deputies reported that two small children were hurt, neither seriously, last night when the automobile in which they were riding with their parents was involved in an accident on Robinson road one mile north of Pavonia. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scheets, whose car collided with a machine driven by Ray Buxton, deputies said.

In another accident at the edge of Galion last evening, John Howard of Galion and W. L. Morton of Marion suffered body bruises when Howard's car landed in a field after striking a car owned by H. H. Whitney of Columbus, parked near the China Pig on U. S. route 30-S. Whitney was not in the car at the time.

HOST OF GAMES

Major Attractions Plentiful on Grid Calendar Today.

Football swung into the final month of the season today with a host of major attractions.

Heading the program as far as Mansfield was concerned were the games at Columbus and Stadium field, with Ohio State host to Indiana and the Tygers renewing their oldest rivalry with Ashland.

Another stellar scholastic attraction on this district's card pitted the undefeated Crestline team against Shelby in Shelby.

Sharing the Big Ten program with the Ohio-Indiana clash were the Michigan-Illinois, Northwestern-Minnesota and Iowa-Purdue games. The Notre Dame-Army, Columbia-Cornell and Rice-Fordham contests held the eastern spotlight.

They Sent Neutrality Bill To White House

President Roosevelt was to sign the new neutrality bill today following completion of final action on the legislation by congress. Opening the way for quick final approval, house and senate conferees shown in the photo above, agreed yesterday on the final draft of the bill. Seated, left to right, are Senators Key Pittman of Nevada, Walter F. George of Georgia, Tom Connally of Texas and William E. Borah of Idaho. Standing, left to right, are Representatives Sol Bloom of New York, John Kee of West Virginia, Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey, Hamilton Fish of New York and Luther A. Johnson of Texas.

Locke Hits At Insinuations; Dems Appeal On 'Experience'

Asserts Public Resents Opposition's 'Below-the-Belt' Tactics.

William J. Locke, Republican candidate for mayor, last night repudiated an insinuation of Atty. A. S. Beach, Democratic campaigner, that he (Locke) had been associated with a Pennsylvania bank that failed because of the dishonesty of its officials.

Speaking at a meeting of G. O. P. war veterans at Republican headquarters, Locke said: "I feel confident that the public resents the last-minute, below-the-belt tactics of our opposition, illustrated by the tirade of their spokesman.

"An institution with which I was assoicated from January, 1921, to November, 1925, failed Nov. 12, 1930 due to defalcations of its treasurer," Locke said. "I had fully and completely severed my connection with this institution five years previous to its failure to enter the insurance business. Yet the best the opposition can say or do is to insinuate that I was in some manner associated with its failure, while in the same breath they admit I was not involved in any way.

"Catch methods of this type deserve a severe reprimand by high-minded citizens of Mansfield, and I trust they will vote out of of-

It's Candidates' Byword As They Push Drive at 2 Meetings.

Pushing their campaign for election along at high gear, Democratic candidates for municipal offices spoke last night at two meetings, stressing the need for "experienced" officials to head Mansfield's city government.

The "song of experience" was sung by no less than eight candidates who addressed a meeting of young Democrats at Prospect park and later at a rally that attracted more than 300 colored voters to headquarters of the Richland county colored Democratic club on North Diamond street.

It was started by Mayor Claude M. Hunter speaking before 100 persons at Prospect park and was chorused by the the other candidates, who urged a straight Democratic vote next Tuesday in order to "give your city experienced government."

Hunter who pointed to the need "for men experienced in municipal affairs to run your city" repeated his pledge to "continue to give Mansfield an efficient and economical administration."

NORTH BAY, Ont.—(INS)—Bette Davis, film star, continued toward Hollywood today after visiting the famous Dionne quintuplets, "like any other tourist."

DOG SAVES BOY

Tiffin Child Falls In Pond, Pet Canine Sounds Alarm.

TIFFIN—(AP)—A lowly dog with a nose for trouble was credited today with saving the life of his one-year-old master, Jerry Beisner.

STUDY PLAN TO LIMIT ORDERS

Committee Works on Program To Keep War Orders From Wrecking Defense Plan.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—Set-up of a government priority committee was revealed today to prevent a flood of British and French war orders from wrecking national defense plans.

It was created last summer as an inter-departmental group known as the clearance committee of the joint army-navy munitions board.

Civilian veterans who kept supplies moving and factories properly occupied in 1917-18 have been aiding the streamlined 1939 model priority group. Among those who have conferred here was Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

The United Press was informed the committee has been in touch with foreign governments to suggest how orders should be distributed here to insure minimum conflict between Anglo-French production and that which is essential for our own armed forces.

The committee's job promises to be a hot one. There is prospect of immediate post-embargo war orders aggregating $500,000,000. There is expectation of cash-on-the-barrelhead business with Great Britain and France expanding rapidly from that figure.

BRIDE SLAIN IN HONEYMOON 'TUB MURDER'

Husband of a Week Gives Up, Police Find Girl, 18, Nude, Mutilated In Bathtub.

KILLED BY HUNTING KNIFE

Police Find Bridal Bouquet In Refrigerator; Motive Not Established.

BULLETIN

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—(U.P.) Walter Hibberd, 18, who confessed he killed his wife of a week, severed her head with a hunting knife in their honeymoon apartment, police said today. Her head was found in a wash basin and the rest of her body in the bathtub.

(By United Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — The mutilated body of an attractive bride of one week was found in the bathtub of her "honeymoon" apartment today after her young husband had surrendered to Vermont police.

"I killed my wife in Springfield," Walter Hibberd, 20, told Patrolman Angus J. MacKinnon in a street of Brattleboro, Vt., 40 miles north of here early today.

He arrested him and Brattleboro authorities telephoned Springfield police.

Detectives hurried to the two-room apartment and discovered the victim, the former Caroline Havey, 18.

In a kitchenette refrigerator, detectives found the bridal bouquet which young Mrs. Hibberd carried a week ago yesterday when she was married.

Her body was nude. It was in a sitting position in the bathtub, with the head leaning against the nearby wash basin.

She had been stabbed with a hunting knife.

'Horribly Mutilated.'

The bathtub was partly filled with water. The blood-stained hunting knife lay on the floor beside the tub. Detectives said the body was "horribly mutilated."

Authorities said that after the slaying, Hibberd apparently had boarded the midnight train for Montreal but had got off at Brattleboro and surrendered.

Local police hurried to Brattleboro to bring him back.

After questioning Hibberd at Brattleboro police headquarters, Fleming said:

"We have not as yet been able to determine the motive for the crime."

Roosevelt's Pen Removes Ban on U. S. Arms Sales

Presidential O. K. Expected to Result In $1,000,000,000 Worth of 'Cash and Carry' Munitions Orders From Belligerents; Congress Quits.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed into law today "the neutrality act of 1939," ending the embargo on arms sales to France, Britain and Germany and establishing a neutrality policy designed to keep the United States from being drawn into the war in Europe.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt decided to sign the historic bill repealing the arms embargo around noon today, thus giving a signal which some officials expected to result in the placing of $1,000,000,000 worth of war orders in this country—mostly by France and Britain—within the next few weeks.

The Allied powers were expected to begin moving across the Atlantic almost immediately some 300 airplanes completed for them by American companies since the embargo went into effect, soon after the war began.

Congress gave its final approval to the repeal legislation yesterday and ended the 44-day special session called by the chief executive.

Over the vigorous protest of a substantial bi-partisan opposition the legislature agreed to repeal the ban on arms sales to warring nations but wrote into the bill some of the most stringent regulations of American shipping in the nation's history. The latter were designed to avoid "incidents" and possible subsequent involvement of this country in the European conflict by keeping ships and passengers out of danger zones.

Both OK Final Draft.

The senate adopted the final draft of the bill 55 to 24; the house shortly afterward by 243 to 172. With little of the back-slapping and noisy finishes customary at regular sessions, the senate then voted 46 to 25 to adjourn and the house 223 to 189, both ballots being largely along party lines. The session ended formally at 6:35 p. m. (E. S. T.)

Secretary Hull and his advisers completed, meantime, the series of presidential proclamations and executive orders putting into effect the new legislation.

The hardest task of the state department chief was the delimitation of the danger area from which congress decreed that American ships should be barred. The prohibition against entering this presidentially-defined zone is in addition to the bill's provision that American vessels must stay out of ports in England, Scotland, northern Ireland, France and Germany, and generally speaking, those on the east coast of Canada. Furthermore, this country's merchant marine is forbidden to carry arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerent ports anywhere, except by inland routes to Canada.

The Mediterranean, which was included in the present danger zone, would not be included in the new zone, it was learned, so that American ships could travel to Spain, Italy, Turkey, Greece and the Near East.

The proclamations would contin-

Ashbrook Maintains Stand Against Repeal

Congressman William A. Ashbrook, representing the 17th Ohio district, maintained his stand against repeal of the arms embargo to the last, Washington dispatches said today.

Ashbrook voted against the house-senate conference agreement on the bill, as the Ohio delegation maintained its 19-4 opposition to any change in the neutrality set-up, though they were on the losing side.

FLINT: Freed by Norway, U. S. Ship Flies American Flag Again

(By Associated Press)

BERGEN, Norway—The American freighter City of Flint arrived here today, freed from her German captors by the decision of the Norwegian government to give the ship back to its American crew.

She came here from Haugesund, 75 miles down the Norwegian coast, leaving behind the prize crew, which was interned by Norway in the sudden climax to the 4,963-ton ship's adventure as the war prize of a German sea raider.

Free again to fly the American flag, after a saga of seizure and wandering in the North Atlantic from almost a month under an alien crew, she sailed from Haugesund before dawn.

But the early morning announcement of the Norwegian admiralty that the ship should be "given free" left no doubt that the American crew again was in charge.

German possession of the City of Flint, which began Oct. 9 when a prize crew boarded her from the pocket battleship Deutschland, ended after British warships had sighted her on her way toward Germany.

American crewmen aboard the City of Flint told the Associated

They'll be in the army, too—and very soon.

The British lion roars defiance to enemy.

British must have mutton—war or no war.

These scenes are typical of wartime England. Top photo shows a group of London youngsters reading the papers that call them into service, as a detachment of troops swings by. They are called "twenty-ones" having reached that age. Center photo shows one of the huge coastal defense guns—"somewhere in England"—"sounding off" in practice. CRISIS: Watch Moscow For Settlement or March on Finland

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW—Observers looked today to further negotiations between Soviet Russia and Finland—or possibly a breaking off of conversations—to indicate whether the Russians would march into Finland as they did into Poland.

Whether Russia gained peacefully the territorial concessions she sought of her little Baltic neighbor, took them forcibly or relented seemed to depend on the future of the talks, the third series of which opened last night at the Kremlin.

Both Finns and Russians declined to comment on the one-hour session in which Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotov and his assistant, Vladimir Potemkin, represented the Soviet Union. Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, former Finnish premier, heads the Finnish delegation.

Since Josef Stalin did not attend and because of the brevity of the meeting the likelihood was seen that the Finns were awaiting instructions from Helsinki.

If Fanland does not come to heel, further blasts are to be expected from the Soviet press—such as the charge yesterday by Pravda, Communist party organ, that Finnish Foreign Minister Elias Erkko, speaking last Wednesday in Helsinki, "directly threatened" the Soviet Union.

AIRCRAFTS HIT FAST PACE IN STEADY MARKET

Large Overnight Orders Spur Plane Shares In Advance; Big Purchases Seen.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Aircrafts advanced briskly today, well in front of an otherwise steady stock market.

On the plus side at the opening, on the basis of moderately large overnight orders, were Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Curtis Wright, United Aircraft, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler and New York Central.

From various sectors of the domestic financial front favorable communiques continued in abundance.

Outstanding was the report of the federal reserve board that industrial production in October, as measured by the board's seasonally adjusted index, had reached the highest point since the autumn of 1929.

Producers of steel and electricity reported outputs topping the 1929 records.

Aviation authorities said they believed Great Britain and France were likely to double their airplane purchases in this country, now that military goods may be exported.

Student Arrested, 2 Officers Hurt as Rally Gets Rough

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A Western Reserve student faced charges of resisting an officer and two policemen nursed injuries today as an aftermath to a clash between students and police at a football rally.

Patrolman Frank Willigan suffered a broken finger and Patrolman Henry G. Thorpe a stone-bruised back.

Robert Kohrman, 18, was released on bond after his arrest by Willigan, who said the youth tussled with him.

Willigan said the clash occurred when 500 students swarmed into University circle, the area surrounding the Western Reserve and Case campuses, last night after a bonfire pep meeting in preparation for today's homecoming game with Ohio Wesleyan. Traffic was tied up for nearly two hours.

6 ENTER PLEAS, WAIT SENTENCE

Six Others Deny Charges at Arraignment; Court Sets Trials For Nov. 13.

Six of 13 persons arraigned before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston this morning on indictments pleaded guilty and were to be sentenced later today.

Six pleaded innocent and the other case was continued because of the absence of the defense attorney, George Blecker. Judge Huston said the prisoners who pleaded innocent will go on trial during the week of Nov. 13.

Bernard Richardson, New York City, indicted for manslaughter in connection with the traffic death of Mrs. Ethel Goon of Mansfield a month ago in East Mansfield, pleaded innocent. His case is one of those set for hearing after Nov. 15.

Defendants who pleaded guilty were C. L. Pattin, accused of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent; Albert Walker, cutting with intent to wound; Oscar Hughes, possessing narcotic drugs; R. H. Scott, defrauding an inn keeper; Buelah DeMartino, assault and battery, and Luther Cooper, robbery.

Pleading innocent to the indictments were: Gilbert McElroy charged with assault with intent to rob; Martin Xander, breaking and entering; Arthur Dysinger and William Dysinger, breaking and entering; Earl Crayton, robbery, and Richardson, accused of second degree manslaughter.

The case of Marie Keller, cited for cutting with intent to wound, was continued because of Atty. Blecker's absence.

STATE RENEWS CROSSING OFFER

Gives County 3 Years to Pay Its Share of Proposed West 4th Project.

(the B. and O. crossing) requires a considerable fill and the other (the Erie) a sizable quantity of excavation," Beightler said. "If the projects were planned separately and at different times the cost of each would be increased considerably by the earth removing and supplying requirements," he quoted the highway engineers as reporting.

It was pointed out to the commissioners that the city of Mansfield has agreed to defray the cost of paving the east approach and the highway over the project and 85 per cent of the property damage in the city. The project begins just inside the city limits.

Do You Know?

That over 90% of the people of Mansfield and Madison Township have never been in Municipal Court and therefore have no knowledge of its operation?

Do You Know?

That through the first term of Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, every case of Careless and Reckless operation of a motor vehicle and in every case of Operating a Motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, wherein there is a conviction, the guilty party has been made to pay all damages done to other people's property?

Do You Know?

That from the time Judge Kalbfleisch took office until the present time, there have been 629 convictions for Careless and Reckless driving and 196 convictions for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated or under the influence of alcohol, making a total of 825 convictions?

Do You Know?

That of the 825 convictions, in 53 cases a portion of the fine was suspended upon payment of damages and in 37 cases jail sentences were suspended on payment of damages. There were 74 cases in which partial fines were suspended, but the driver's rights taken from those convicted?

Do You Know?

That in not a single case has a convicted person been excused without paying a fine and costs?

This Is How It Was Done

Judge Kalbfleisch has fined the guilty party an amount in excess of the amount of damages, whatever it might be in any case, and then suspended that portion of the fine which corresponds with the amount of the damage, upon the condition that the damages are paid. Hundreds of dollars have been collected for the innocent third party by reason of this policy that would not otherwise have been paid. JUDGE KALBFLEISCH BELIEVES THIS POLICY IS A GREAT SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY. These are FACTS which the records will prove.

Do You Know?

That the total receipts of the Municipal court under Judge Kalbfleisch's first term with two months yet to be received, exceeds the total receipts for the four years immediately preceding his administration, to-wit, in Kalbfleisch's term, less November and December, of 1939, the receipts were $86,382.85 as against the complete four years preceding, the receipts were $83,723.52. Which proves Judge Kalbfleisch's administration has been sound financially as well as in fairness and justice.

During the course of this campaign, a brilliant Mansfield lawyer saw fit to address a letter to the Republican Women's Council and they thought so highly of this letter that they urged me to have it printed here. The letter is as follows:

Nov. 1, 1939

Women of Mansfield:

Permit me to say a word in regard to our candidate for Municipal Judge, G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Mr. Kalbfleisch is a lawyer and a judge and he has lived the professional life of a lawyer and judge. He has been neither a lawyer nor a judge intermittently, but constantly and regularly, not one year off and another year on, not one-third or one-fourth of his time devoted to his profession, but his entire time. There is a continuity in his years, as there is in law itself, there is continuity of his thought, of his character and his conduct. His profession has absorbed the whole man.

I have watched him for more than ten years and frequently complimented the City of Mansfield and the citizens of Mansfield on the fact that we have a professional lawyer and not an intermittent lawyer for the Judge of the Municipal Court. Mr. Kalbfleisch is outstanding for this fact and I am not satisfied unless I impress you with this fact of continuity in his life, in this campaign. I trust you may use this fact to his benefit and to the benefit of the people of the city.

Yours respectfully,
C. H. Workman

These Are FACTS Which the Records Will Prove!

VOTE for G. E. KALBFLEISCH
FOR JUDGE OF MUNICIPAL COURT

Sweden, Norway Threatened as Finns Resist Russia

SOVIET PLAN TO OVER-RUN BALTIC SEEN

Experts Think Reds Fear Nazi Defeat, Want to Protect Approach to Soviet.

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
(INS Staff Writer)

PARIS—As news reached Paris today that Norway had released the City of Flint from her German captors and restored the ship to her American crew, other dispatches indicated that Soviet Russia is threatening perhaps to overrun not only Finland but Sweden and Norway as well.

Thus the valiant little Scandinavian states are showing resistance to international bullies at the very moment that pressure is becoming hottest.

Finnish sources insist there can be no question of Finland submitting to the Soviet Union because Finland once had its red regime and no Finn has forgotten that it is better to die battling the Red army than to die by GPU bullets.

Military students point out that the Soviet Union's attempt to obtain from Finland strategical positions along her coast may be intended not merely to defend against the possibility of a German attack but at something considerably further in the future.

Looks To Future.

Their view is that Stalin is looking forward to the time when the Allies may defeat Germany and then attempt to settle with the Soviet Union. In that case Soviet possession of Finland's coastal defenses could help in defenses of the gulf of Finland and the approaches to Leningrad.

Stalin is also said to have used as an argument the fact that Finland used to belong to imperial Russia, forms a natural geographic appendage to Russia, and that if the Finns did not listen to reason there would be nothing in Bolshevik logic or ethics to prevent the Soviet Union from recovering the whole of her former grand duchy, establishing a new "Soviet Socialistic Republic of Finland."

What this would mean for the Finns has been exemplified in that section of Poland just swallowed up by Russia. Reports received by Polish authorities here from Polish refugees lately escaped into Rumania indicate that the worst fears for the fate of the bourgeoisie have been realized.

"Thousands of land-owners and middle class people and almost everybody, both men and women, owning more than $1,000 worth of property, already have been shot by the GPU or the Narkomindel, or have else been formed into labor gangs and sent to concentration camps in the interior of Russia."

This sentence from a Polish report helps to understand the shudder of horror aroused by news that the Red army may attempt to subjugate Finland.

Ashland Co-eds, Men Trade Roles; Girls Pay Bills

ASHLAND — Ashland college co-eds took their boy friends to the football game last night, carried heavy coats and blankets, bought hot dogs and peanuts, and then solicitously returned the boys to their homes.

This reversal of the usual procedure was part of the "Sadie Hawkins week" an old tradition with a new name. For many years the observance was called Gobblers week, but the name was changed this week in honor of Sadie Hawkins, character in the "Li'l Abner" comic strip.

It's a big celebration on the campus. Co-eds select their own dates—but they can't date the same young man twice during the three days of the observance—, decide on the entertainment, provide transportation, [illegible] for their dates, pay all expenses and take the boys back home. If there are any good girl [illegible] salutations—well, no information on this delicate subject was available.

The Sadie Hawkins celebration started Friday and the boys on the campus used every wile to attract the feminine eye. They wore bright smocks, pajama jackets — anything that had a lot of color.

Vendors of candy bars, peanuts, sandwiches and popcorn directed their calls to the girls of the crowd, and the girls proved generous entertainers. They simply lavished attentions on their dates.

The Sadie Hawkins celebration continues through Sunday.

Up and Down THE STREET

Rome may not have been built in a day, but J. F. Burkhart, Mansfield contractor, probably could have completed it in a couple of years. Burkhart had a customer who wanted to buy the Burkhart home on Oct. 1 and wanted possession of it Nov. 1. The contractor liked his 6-room home which had taken three months to build, but decided to give it up and build one similar to it. He broke ground for the foundation on Oct. 2 and on the afternoon of the third the foundation was completed and the walls started. The house was completely finished and decorated Oct. 31 and he moved in Nov. 1.

Sheriff E. P. Long had so many prisoners to go to court today that he had to take them to the courthouse in shifts. One group of 13 went over this morning and after they entered their pleas, five more were to be taken before Judge C. H. Huston. The sheriff had only five pairs of handcuffs to go around, but he didn't mind that, because he rounded up enough deputies to guard the prisoners on the way to jail.

Memories of those never-to-be-forgotten days of the last World War in France were brought back today to Sam V. Fox, Mansfield jeweler, as he viewed two pages of pictures of the war appearing this week in a Columbus newspaper. One of the pictures shows Fox and several buddies in a trench somewhere in France.

Paul Snyder and John Longley, Mansfield and Ashland high school football coaches, were partners last night but today they are opponents. The two coaches were officials of the spectacular Madison - Bellville game, won by the Rams, 13 to 7. Their teams clashed in their annual game at Stadium field today. After a last-minute pass had won the game for Madison last evening, Snyder turned to Longley and said: "Hope you don't do that to me tomorrow."

INDICTMENT HIT

Judge Weighs Officials' Plea To Quash Libel Charges.

ASHLAND—Judge H. E. Culbertson today took under advisement a motion filed by the defendants to quash the criminal libel indictments the grand jury recently brought against Mark M. Lutz, justice of the peace, and Walter R. Petchler, constable, both of Brunswick.

Through their attorney, J. F. Henderson of Ashland, the two village officials filed a motion to quash the indictment on the grounds that its wording was insufficient to charge an offense.

The indictment grew out of the suspension of Robert S. Greenlun, district state highway superintendent of route markings, who is said to have erected signs warning of a speed trap at the village of Brunswick. Greenlun was suspended on affidavits filed by the two village officials, who swore that he had been seen operating a state truck while intoxicated. Testimony given to the grand jury on the affidavits resulted in the jury indicting the officials on criminal libel.

Bond for the two officials was continued at $500 each.

HUSKER FINDS HUNCH CORRECT

Hoosier Bangboard Artist 'Felt All Along' He Was to Be 1939 Winner.

LAWRENCE, Kas. — Lawrence (Slim) Pitzer, Attica, Ind., felt all along this was his year to win the national cornhusking contest—and he was right.

Pitzer walked away with the title by outhusking 20 other contestants from 11 states in agriculture's biggest sports classic. Officials estimated 112,000 watched the event.

He had a net of 28.39 bushels for the 80-minute contest. The second place man, Richard Huth, Minnesota state champion, husked 27.03 bushels.

Pitzer won the Indiana championship four consecutive years—a record—from 1932 to 1935 but the national title eluded him each year. He failed to qualify in 1936 and did not compete in 1937 and 1938.

Then he decided on a comeback. He established an Indiana record to qualify for the national contest.

His steady rat-a-tat-tat on the bangboards yesterday, coupled with a good, clean job of husking brought him the title, $100, a big trophy and lots of glory.

"I felt all along I was entitled to one contest," he grinned.

OUT, BACK IN

Galion Man Arrested Pouring Liquor Through Funnel.

BUCYRUS—Released from the Crawford county jail here at 1 p. m. yesterday after serving a 30-day sentence on a theft charge, William Potter, 49, a Galion railroader, was arrested again at 9 p. m. this time on a charge of conveying liquor to an inmate of a jail.

Potter was arrested by Sheriff Albert French as he was attempting to pour a pint of whisky through a paper funnel to an inmate in the county jail. The funnel was placed through a jail window. There was no time set for Potter's arraignment.

DIES IN GREENWICH.

GREENWICH — Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Sisson, 88, who died yesterday, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home. Rev. Stanley Johnson of the Chrichian church, will officiate and burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery. Her only survivor is a brother, Grant Crabbs, near here.

STATE GIVES LICENSES TO 8 HOSPITAL INSURANCE GROUPS

COLUMBUS, —(AP)— The state division of insurance reported today it had licensed eight non-profit hospital service associations under legislation enacted by the Ohio general assembly last spring.

The legislation enlarged the associations' score of operation from county-wide to state-wide, exempted them from provisions of the insurance laws and made their funds and property exempt from taxation.

The associations are composed of groups of hospitals which contract to provide care to subscribers of a group service plan.

Associations licensed are in Youngstown, Newark, Cincinnati, Akron, Canton, Toledo, Columbus and Cleveland.

Constitutionality of the legislation has been attacked by the Mutual Hospitalization association of Cleveland, an insurance company, and by Nathan Mayer, Columbus taxpayer.

They contended the act discriminated against insurance companies, particularly in exempting the hospital service associations from taxation.

The Franklin county common pleas court rejected their petitions for an injunction to restrain the state superintendent of insurance from licensing the associations.

The court, however, temporarily restrained the state auditor from making deductions from salaries of state employes who subscribe to hospital service plans and turning the money over to the associations.

SIGN FOR FLIERS

City Asks Permission to Put Marker on Roof of School.

When the new John Simpson junior high school is completed, it may turn out to be more than just an institution for learning.

Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist said today he will ask the board of education for permission to paint a marker on the roof of the school so air travelers will be able to identify the city and the direction of the airport in compliance with a state law.

Nist was notified several days ago by the state bureau of aeronautics that the city was charged with the responsibility of placing and maintaining a suitable marker of identification.

A survey this week from the air showed that the roof of the new school was the ideal spot. Nist said. He will ask the board of education for permission for the city to paint the marker on the roof of the building.

Stronghold Containing Cash Taken From Columbus Agency.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Police today searched for safecrackers who broke into a large safe and removed a strongbox at an automobile sales agency.

Officials of the company reported approximately $400 in cash, $400 worth of sales tax stamps and $150 worth of merchandise were stolen.

'RUINOUS,' SAY TREASURERS OF OHIO COUNTIES

Canvassers Visit Every Home In Cleveland, Warn Against Passing Amendments.

Two new blasts were fired today at the Bigelow pension and initiative proposals, up for a vote Nov. 7.

One came from the association of county treasurers of Ohio, meeting in Columbus, who attacked the proposals as "ruinous for the state."

The other came from Cleveland, where canvassers were visiting every home in the Greater Cleveland area, passing out leaflets which blared in big red letters, "Warning to all home owners and renters. Kiss goodbye to your house and lot and probably your job as well."

Outside large factories similar broadsides were handed workmen, warning them of what the campaigners called the impending disaster if the Bigelow amendments should pass.

A different type circular went to every person with a mortgaged home. Others were drafted for parent-teacher associations and school teachers.

This was a sample of the thoroughness of the campaign against the pension plan proposed by Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati preacher-politician who would have the state guarantee, by constitutional amendment, $50 a month incomes to retired wage earners 60 years or older, and $80 to couples.

Appeals to Voters.

At the Columbus meeting of county treasurers, Dr. Arch D. Schultz, director of research of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, said treasurers "would have to become policemen of the most vicious sort" if the Bigelow plan is passed next Tuesday.

John Kolb, Richland county treasurer, attended the meeting of treasurers, but said he was not at the session where the action on the Bigelow plan was taken.

He said however that if all the statements made against the plan were true, "I don't want to be treasurer."

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Earl Griffith, appealing to the citizens of Ohio to vote Tuesday, warned that the fate of the important "Bigelow amendments" might be determined by the "stay-at-home" vote.

"If those who oppose the Bigelow amendment do not vote Tuesday," Griffith said, "the people of Ohio may awaken Wednesday morning to find the state in the throes of bankruptcy and great uncertainty in interpreting the two constitutional amendments."

BOOST LEVY

250 Students Parade In Behalf Of 3-Mill School Tax.

More than 250 Senior high school students, representing various school organizations, paraded through downtown Mansfield last night, boosting the three-mill school levy which comes before voters Tuesday.

The parade was one of three events held yesterday by the school in its annual observance of Red and White day. The other two were a variety program in the afternoon and dance following the parade.

The line of march included six floats, boosting the levy, the senior, junior high and the Bowman school football teams, the Senior and John Simpson junior high school bands and the American Legion drum and bugle corps.

About 300 students attended the dance in the gymnasium after the parade.

Not That It Matters

We Must Put End To Freak Schemes or See End of All Orderly, Sane Government

—By JANE WILLIAMS

NEXT TUESDAY is an off-year election day. Not a very exciting one in so far as candidates are concerned, but strangely enough, the future of Ohio, your future, your children and your children's children's future depend upon it.

Upon the outcome of two rather innocent-looking amendments on the ballot depends Ohio's place in the nation for the next 50 or 75 years. Because it takes so long to repeal an amendment to the constitution, even after people have found out that it has brought ruin in its wake, and it would take not less than a half a century to fight our way back from state bankruptcy, even after we started on the comeback trail.

Ohio is not alone in this precarious position of being perched between sanity and lunacy in pension legislation. While Ohioans anxiously await the outcome of the ballots on the two Bigelow amendments to the constitution, one of which is a pension bill that spells ruin to the state, the people of California are being subjected to even more impossible proposals which will be voted on Tuesday.

The $30-Every-Thursday amendment is on the California ballot. Thirty dollars every week for every one over 50 who is not employed. That, like Ohio's Pest, means millionaires and paupers alike—so long as they aren't employed. This insane proposal was voted down once before, after an expensive campaign on both sides, but it has popped up again, and there's no way of telling how it will be received.

OHIO, along with most other states, has already enacted humanitarian legislation to provide for its old people, and this will be wiped out if the Bigelow pension amendment passes. Then when we simply can't raise the money for the more extravagant pension plan, what will happen to the old people? And the tragic part of it is, that there will be so little sympathy for them then. The federal administration's relief program has already hardened millions of American people toward any charitable enterprise. You simply can't bleed one class white in order to provide for another without arousing class hatreds.

Somewhere this mania for freak social legislation must end—or it will end orderly, sane government. And the only way Ohio can end it, is to vote NO on both Bigelow proposals—which will be the second and third on your state issue ballots—in such tremendous numbers that they never can be revived.

TO THE critics who smugly pointed out the error of "consensus of opinion" in one of our headlines this week—phooey.

Not that I, too, didn't think it was as superfluous as "free gratis," but before pointing out the error to the editor—timidly, of course—, I went to Webster's unabridged and found this:

" 'Consensus of opinion' formerly was considered obsolete, but is now considered good usage."

So there. Let that be a lesson, or something.

IT'S PRETTY satisfying, at that, to have your opinions shared by others, especially experts. A couple of columns ago, I suggested that what the movies needed was more pie throwing episodes and Keystone Kops—judging from the reaction to "Hollywood Cavalcade."

Comes now an announcement from Movie Mogul Darryl Zanuck that movie audiences want more "belly laughs" (I know, but stomach-laughs sounds so silly) and he is willing to spend a few hundred thousand dollars to prove it. He's going to make a series of two-reel Keystone Kop comedies, with none other than Mack Sennett to direct them. And at the RKO lot, they've signed Harry Langdon to do two of his old slap-stick comedies.

And all as a result of lovely Alice Faye taking a cream pie right in the face!

ONE touch of sorghum makes the whole world kin, it seems. After my wistful yearning in last week's column, not only did I get the old fashioned syrup (which was simply elegant with hot Southern spoon bread), but other housewives called me to tell me that they, too, had a "sorghum binge" this week. They had it with hot waffles and fried mush. Some suggested making soft gingerbread with it and using it in baked beans.

The paragraph roused pleasant gastronomic memories for a number of readers. "What's become of shoo-fly pie?" Old Timer writes: and "Did you ever eat the old fashioned ribbon dumplings that were used in a boiled pot-pie—and which were thin and soggy? My mother used to make them, but they are a mystery to me." "Do women ever cook steamed apple dumplings any more?"

Well, I could give you recipes and instructions on all of them, but darned if I will. They would "date me" as surely as a bustle or mutton leg sleeves.

FAIR ENOUGH!

Labor Gives Up All Its Gains If Ham-and-Eggs Win Out In California

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES—These fellows out here certainly have made an awful bum out of poor old John Lewis with their indorsement of the ham-and-eggs thing. There is just no [illegible] munist domination, has placed itself on record in support of a constitutional amendment which revokes labor's right to strike.

Lewis may deny that the Communists run the CIO on this coast, but it makes no difference what he says, because everybody knows they do. Moreover, any sane American labor man will admit that this anti-strike clause of the ham-and-eggs article moves to abolish the dearest treasure that organized labor has acquired in the long struggle up to the Wagner Act.

Maybe Lewis will find it more convenient to admit that the Bolos have obtained absolute control of the California CIO, and thus, to some extent, remove the curse from this action. He might then move to drive them out of the organization.

If he took that course he would at least discredit the indorsement of the anti-strike amendment, but if he doesn't do something loud and emphatic, Old Longwords will give silent consent to a labor-baiting program which makes Tom Girdler's meanest thoughts read real nice.

Everything is so queer in this land where now it is solemnly proposed to issue queer money that a person of normal mind runs a risk of being locked up on sight as a mental case. It ain't me but the facts which are dizzy.

The facts are that the California Communist CIO is suporting an amendment which would cancel labor's right to strike as an act of gratitude to the ham-and-eggs racket for help in defeating an anti-picketing law. If you can't strike, there is no reason to picket, and the right to picket obviously withers into total unimportance if the right to strike is gone.

But there you have the situation, and you might stir in the peculiar fact that this ham-and-eggs which the Communists are boosting is the most faithful imitation of Adolf Hitler's National Socialism that has yet been offered in the U. S. A.

I would like to point out all the standard-gauge citizens and business men who view ham-and-eggs with great alarm are quoting Upton Sinclair and Old Doc Townsend as though these two old economic queeries were highly respected pillars of the system.

Yet, it might be a good thing to try ham-and-eggs, have a cheap little revolution and state bankruptcy and get done with all this monkey business which keeps California always upset and inefficient.

If this dictator attempted to exercise the powers written into the law for himself, he would sure as hell be lynched or chased into the sea, because California, though her people will stand for plenty, just isn't going to take a dictator. Labor wouldn't yield the right to strike and picket, and the rank and file probably would bat the ears off the CIO's Communist managers and run them out for trying to Hitlerize them in a labor front.

Of course, the state would go broke and would have to start over, but some state has got to take the fall, and California seems nearer ready than any other.

asserting that he had made use of court mail for campaign purposes.

Blecker charged that Kalbfleisch had enclosed campaign cards in mail sent out by municipal court and applied the words "absolutely disgusting" to the practice.

Blecker, who spoke at both meetings, promised "fair and square treatment" for all who come before the court "regardless of race, creed or color" if he is elected.

City Auditor Paul L. Kelley, seeking re-election, cited the years of experience in handling city affairs by the Democratic candidates, claiming that the three Republican candidates for major elective offices had none.

"If there was ever a time when Mansfield needed experienced executives it is certainly right now," he said, explaining that the problem of finances had become a major one.

Atty. Francis O'Brien, addressing the Young Democrats, credited Hunter's administration with "far sightedness" and challenged the Republicans to "tell what you have found after attacking Mayor Hunter's record."

"These men not only have done the things they should do but they have also looked towards the future development of our city," he added.

Attacking Locke's pledge to "try to solve the traffic problem," O'Brien pointed out that it was "no worse here than any other city in the country."

He scored the Republicans for the "flagrant extension on non-residential tendencies" by "importing speakers," referring to a talk made here Thursday night by Mrs Robert A. Taft, wife of U. S senator.

ue to name Poland as a belligerent, an official said.

Re-Issue Orders.

Nearly $80,000,000 worth of arms export licenses to Great Britain and France, granted before the present embargo was proclaimed after the outbreak of war, will be re-issued by the state department on the application of the American arms manufacturers holding the orders.

Unofficial estimates were that between 50 and 100 ships might have to be withdrawn from the North Atlantic trade.

In addition to lifting the embargo against exporting arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerents, the bill requires shipments of arms and other materials to warring governments in Europe to be paid for in cash and transported in foreign ships. Title will have to pass to the purchaser before such goods may leave American ports.

Gold Already Here.

Some authorities have said that Britain and France, whose seapower would enable them to carry goods away and to prevent Germany from obtaining shipments, except possibly through neutral countries, had more than $1,000,000,000 in gold in the United States for purchases of arms and planes.

Loans and credits to warring governments are banned and heavy penalties provided for violations of these and other restrictions.

Britain, France Study Joint Purchases.

PARIS —(AP)— Great Britain and France, grasping at the chance offered by the United States' lifting of the embargo, conferred today on a joint plan for purchases of war materials overseas.

Following the arrival Thursday of Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, authorized sources disclosed that the French and British governments were studying such questions as payment, shipment and distribution between them of American arms.

Warplanes such as the Curtiss Hawk, which the French regard as one of the most flexible fighting ships on the western front, were understood to be the American product in which the allies were most interested.

There was no indication at the moment, however, to what extent they might be contemplating purchases.

fice men who condone such statements," Locke added.

At the same meeting, Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, seeking re-election, declared that during his term on the bench court receipts had totalled $86,000, exceeding by $3,000 the total receipts for the previous four-year term.

"The next two months will add another $5,000 to that $86,000," he said, "which should be proof that my administration has been financially sound as well as fair and just."

Kalbfleisch also charged his opponent, Attorney George H. Blecker, with making conflicting statements concerning his remuneration as a member of the state racing commission.

"Once he said the position was 'gratis' and later said his salary had been cut in half, but he did not mention what his salary is. We know he served one four-year term on the commission, two years of which he was chairman at a higher salary, and that he began a second term in January."

LOYALTY DRIVE IN SIXTH WEEK

'Christ and the Life of Power' to be Theme This Week.

Mansfield churches tomorrow will enter the sixth week of their 12-week "Loyalty to Church Program," which opened Oct. 1.

"Christ and the Life of Power" is the general theme of the sixth week. Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of ministers of cooperating churches, yesterday at the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, is general chairman of the Loyalty program.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1939.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and don't take it for granted that an accident can't happen to YOU.

Just so that "cash-and-carry" idea of selling munitions doesn't develop into easy payments and free delivery.

A movement is already on foot to drop the required age for Bigelow pensions to 50—with several vigorous proponents in the 45 to 49 bracket.

That Civil-Service Referendum

MORE of a political issue than a serious attempt to better civil service conditions in Ohio is seen in the referendum which voters will find on their "questions or issues" ballot next Tuesday.

Civil service has so long been a plaything of politicians, in the administration of state business, that suspicion attaches to anything in the way of partisan promotion of so-called "reforms."

The referendum to be voted on next Tuesday was instituted by the Democratic state organization to combat an attempt made by the Bricker administration to dismiss a number of provisional appointees of the Davey regime.

A "yes" vote expresses approval of the amendments to the civil service laws, as passed by the legislature last June and approved by Governor Bricker.

A "no" vote indicates desire to reject this law and continue the tenure of Davey's provisional appointees.

What is really needed, when the time comes that public welfare takes precedence over party politics, is a change in civil service laws that will accomplish what is intended—assured tenure for capable public employes in appointive positions.

Less Enforcement, More Accidents

THE CONSISTENCY with which accident increase keeps pace with lax enforcement of traffic laws is clearly seen in Mansfield's experience along that line during the past nine months.

When the Mansfield police department is on the alert to observe traffic law violators and arrest offenders there are fewer accidents. When there is a let-down on enforcement, as has been evident during the past couple of months, there are more accidents.

Whatever the real explanation may be for the sudden drop-off in arrests for traffic violations, Chief of Police Bates seems oddly naive in the assumption that it's because "People aren't violating the laws."

More plausible, based on quite customary procedure, is that "there's an election coming on."

Education In Better Cooking

ANOTHER of The News-Journal cooking schools is scheduled to open next Tuesday morning at the Ohio theater, with forenoon sessions extending through four days.

As heretofore, there is obvious assumption that such courses in culinary education are more appealing to women than to men and this appearance of discrimination practically extends to the point of making a man—however earnestly he may be interested in cooking—feel quite sensitive, and rather out of place, at a cooking school.

It is natural, of course, in a meeting place of limited capacity, that housewives—and prospective housewives—should be given preference in learning more about the fine art of cookery, but surely some way should be found for aspiring young men to qualify in the essentials of preparing a meal—instead of standing by and watching enviously as a few other men in their club group make ready a delicious steak or fish dinner without feminine aid or intervention.

It will be fine to have the Ohio theater crowded Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, by Mansfield women interested in getting new ideas about preparing and serving good food—but couldn't there be a small room somewhere—maybe at the Y. M. C. A., or the Boy Scouts, or Friendly House—where instruction in even the simpler processes of food preparation would be made available to young—and older—men? Just in case of emergency, you know.

Small Tax For Big Purpose

A CITY of Mansfield's size has a very real need for an intelligently formulated and properly administered year-round recreational program such as is contemplated if 65 per cent of Mansfield voters approve the two-tenths of a mill special tax levy for recreational purposes.

The problem of juvenile delinquency is not the only one involved in a community's responsibility to provide suitable recreational facilities for its young people. There are matters of body-building and character-building to be considered in connection with interesting use of leisure time, under competent supervision.

A small tax for community recreational purposes, such as is to be voted upon next Tuesday, causes no hardship to those who pay it and serves to distribute the privilege of participation in this valuable civic activity in an equitable way among a large number of citizens.

Chemical Fire-Fighting

FIRES and fire-fighting grow more complicated. The worst things that firemen have to contend with are chemical fires, which must often be fought with other chemicals, and which take a good deal of chemical knowledge to handle.

One of the most unusual experiences along this line was a "steel shavings" fire in the refuse dump of a steel plant in Lorain. It might not be literally true to say that the metal shavings burned, but 12,000 tons of them, mixed with oil and sawdust, certainly made one of the most stubborn blazes the fire department had ever contended with. Water seemed to do no good. They finally extinguished the fire by drowning it with seven tons of carbon dioxide, sprayed from fog nozzles.

British Astrology Pauses

PUBLISHERS of the British Journal of Astrology have announced temporary suspension of that magazine "owing to the uncertainty of the immediate future." The stars may not be falling down on their job, but other factors which enter into the situation are more confused and complex than they have been for many years.

It would be interesting to know whether more people, or fewer, turn to astrology for advice and comfort during such times as these.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Do department stores excite you—I mean the really big ones, like Macy's? I mean the ones so big you can wander through them all day, and get lost, and still not see half that's in them.

They used to fascinate O. O. McIntyre. I know people who come to New York once each year and spend half their time plunging through them. No one walks through the big Manhattan department stores. If you strolled you'd be tramped to death. You get on your mark, you get set, you take a deep breath, and you plunge.

From time to time I have written accounts of whirling through the big revolving doors and thereby becoming a visitor in Wonderland, like Alice, for a day, and I have told of the pageantry and the unbelievable variety of doo-dads that range from diapers to Imperial Russian heirlooms.

AND maybe I said I enjoyed it. I don't remember. But if I did, I didn't mean it. Not really. Like fairs, they tire me out. I come out of department stores morose and dissipirited, with a pain in my side, and spots before my eyes. By the time I reach the sports department the lure of the outdoors has been lost in the shuffle of the escalator. If I search for neckties, my enthusiasm gets knocked, keywest before I am past the lace collar department.

I have yet to ask for anything and find it on the same floor with me. The purchases I wish to make are always seven flights up, or eight flights down.

Of course, there are information clerks all around, but the crowd around them is too dense to penetrate. If you try to remember where you saw something before, and climb by escalator or elevator to the floor where you saw it, the girl invariably tells you that it is back where you started from.

THE elevator operators who pause at each stop and enumerate the four hundred items to be found on that floor really perform prodigious feats of memory—but I am not impressed. How can you be when you can't even see the operator. You can't see anything backed against the wall by 23 ladies who, with you, are jammed in an elevator designed for 12. If you have a new hat, and try to be polite by removing it in the elevator, it gets crushed. If you have bundles in your hand, and can't protect yourself, some lady with a pheasant feather on her hat is sure to begin bobbing her head—and tickling your nose until you have to sneeze. Then everybody gives you dark looks. Sneezers spread germs. In New York, most people are horrified by germs.

Department stores? The ads look mighty cheerful in the newspapers, and the windows are mighty gay in season—this season particularly. But, personally, lead me to a little two-by-four haberdashery, with only one floor, and one clerk, and maybe only one rack of neckties to choose from. Any man who can't find what he wants in one rack comes pretty close to being a fop, anyway.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Keep On.

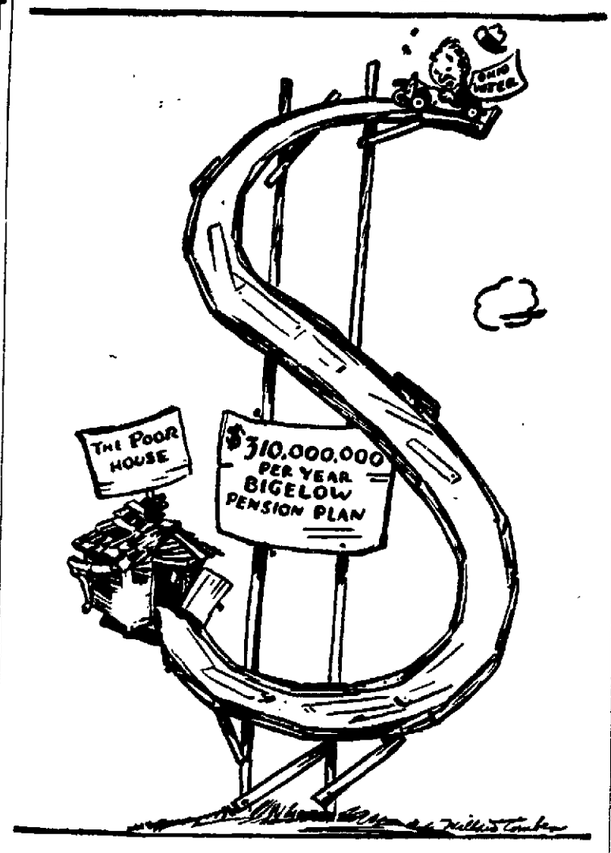
Keep on—what if you fail at first?
Most of us do, we know
So little as we start, we must
Continuously go

To the appointed task before
We learn the smallest bit
Of how we can achieve the thing,
How we can conquer it.

Keep on through failure comes the truth
Of how to gain success,
Through failure comes the knowledge that
Makes the confusion less.

That brings the goal the nearer to
Your longing heart each day.
Keep on, and learn with every loss,
You will succeed that way.

THE ROAD TO RUIN



From The Columbus Citizen

Friendly Hint to Senator Taft

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — Robert A. Taft, U. S. Senator from Ohio, should read that old nursery rhyme that starts: "For want of a nail a shoe was lost, for want of a shoe a horse was lost," etc., winding up with the kingdom being lost because a certain rider could not get through to turn the tide of battle.

In the case of Mr. Taft it may be proper glasses. To get the answer one has only to go to his native town of Cincinnati and ask the first ten people one encounters about the Taft brothers. The answers, or at least eight of them, will be that Brother Charley is a swell guy, a genial person with a smile, who will cross the street to say "Hello" to a friend, or slap an acquaintance on the back. The same eight, or more, will report that Brother Robert is a more self-centered person, and seldom if ever known to slap a back.

FROM close friends of the senator one learns that Brother Bob would be very glad to be a back slapper—not just to advance his own presidential aspirations, but because he feels that way. But the trouble, they confess, is that he has very poor sight. The reason he doesn't wave to people he knows across the street is that he could not possibly realize he knows them. He just can't see them.

Which seems to those of us who have been listening to this defense to be a sharp criticism of Mr. Taft's glasses. Certainly there is nothing the matter with them for reading. The most casual perusal of any speech or statement Mr. Taft makes will show that he has put a lot of study into it, that he must have read volumes in his research on the subject before giving vent to any public utterance.

It savors just a little of a fiction story in one of the magazines a few years back, about a beautiful girl, with particularly beautiful eyes and a soulful expression, who for some reason was not popular. A smart doctor was attracted, and finally found out the trouble. The eyes were soulful because they were not looking at anything. They couldn't. She didn't mean to be high-hatting young men she had met a few days or nights before. She simply didn't recognize them! So the doctor forced her to wear glasses. They were married, and lived happily ever after!

WELL, it might be that if Senator Taft had some amazingly good glasses, which would make him as able to recognize people as his brother, he would get a lot further along the steep and difficult path that leads to the White House. Certainly if he had been using such glasses for the last two or three years he would even now be a bit further up that road.

And it's still not too late. It is generally agreed in Washington that, of the two men concededly ahead of him in the race for the G. O. P. nomination last spring, one, Thomas E. Dewey, has lost ground tremendously, and the other, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan has gambled his all on this European war issue.

Obviously there is not as much talk about Mr. Dewey as there was. Whether this is due to the "overshadowing" operations by Attorney General Frank Murphy, or whether the war situation has made his youth seem more of a handicap, it is difficult to say. Whereas Mr. Vandenberg has not helped himself for the 1940 nomination by opposing the arms embargo repeal, whatever may be the situation with regard to public sentiment in 1944.

Health And Diet

Chances of Having Twins.

—By DR. CLENDENING

MAN, or I suppose I should say woman, is one of the few animals that ordinarily and habitually have a litter of one. But this rule is sometimes bent and occasionally smashed to bits.

A young friend of mine, who had just completed his medical education and graduated from two years in a hospital, decided to settle in a small town in Kansas. He landed there at 8 p. m. of a hot July night and went to the home of his sister. A man was waiting for him on the porch. Waiting is sort of a weak word to describe his condition because he was about to become a father.

My young doctor friend accompanied him home and had his first experience as a full-fledged doctor. This first patient bore a set of twins—the first he had ever seen; and I am happy to state that he acquitted himself beautifully, saving all four persons involved.

There has come to my desk a most portentuous monograph on the number of twins they have had at Johns Hopkins Hospital in the 40 years of its existence. The total number of twin deliveries was 521—one out of every 80 deliveries.

The age of the mothers was, on the average, between 20 and 25.

The diagnosis of the possibility of twins was missed in a third of the cases. So if that happens at so ultra a place as Johns Hopkins, don't blame your neighborhood doctor if he springs a little surprise on you.

The chances of making the diagnosis are better if one twin weighs more than the other. I don't know why, but statistics show that.

Weigh Less.

Twins usually weigh a little less than single babies, naturally. Usually one twin is heavier, and in a large series the heavy twin weighed seven and one-half pounds, which is not very far off the average.

The prospective mother is in a little more danger from the ordinary course of events, such as the toxemias of pregnancy, but she gets it over sooner. A twin pregnancy is two and a half weeks shorter than a single one.

My own experience with twins has been quite extensive. In a long and brilliant career as an obstetrician, I had one case. The woman was newly married and told me that she wanted, expected and was determined to have nine children. When I told her that her initial effort was twins, her only comment was, "one year saved."

I find that parents, far from being appalled at the advent of twins are delighted. And it must be admitted that twins are very cute. The father has to take a little more kidding than ordinarily, but then, think of poor Mr. Dionne!

Go On—Turn the Other Cheek!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

SOMEBODY'S lying about you. Spreading a vicious, twisted story. Just enough facts in it, probably, to give a semblance of truth, but not actually one honest word.

And, of course, you're furious. You'd like to make her eat her words. Shame her before the public. That would end it all—you're sure. But you're wrong. It wouldn't.

The silliest and most futile thing you can do with such a liar is to fight back. Deny the story, if you need to, to the two or three who are really concerned—though even that hardly pays. People who truly care for you won't believe it, anyway. Those who do believe it aren't worth bothering over.

But the best policy of all is—forget it. Let the liar lie. Turn not only "the other cheek" but your whole back—and go your way.

But why—WHY? Am I—you cry—one of those pacifists who believe that the meek will inherit the earth. And me half Irish? Don't make me laugh! No darling. I am the original Mrs. Blood-in-Her-Eye. But, long since, I found that the best and only profitable way to handle a liar is—to let 'em lie.

Suppose you do contradict the story—what then? Do you think that will settle it? It won't. For you won't have touched the main issue at all. Why is the scandalmonger spreading that story? Because she believes it? NO. Because she has a grudge to settle? NO. Because she wants to hurt you? NO.

None of these motives animates the scandal-monger. She may or may not believe her own tale. She may or may not have a grudge against you. But neither of these angles concerns her. Nor would she change her attitude if you could publicly prove your innocence. For she isn't interested in your guilt or innocence—nor in anything else about you.

The scandal-monger is interested only in herself. She is interested in some hunger or hurt deep inside herself. That hunger or hurt is the only real thing in life to her. She doesn't think of you. She hardly knows you exist. You do not exist, for her, except as a peg to hang her lie upon.

But why should she want to hang a lie on you? BECAUSE IF SHE CAN HUMILIATE YOU IT COMFORTS HER OWN HUMILIATION. IF SHE CAN HURT YOU IT COMPENSATES HER FOR HER OWN HURT.

Compensation—that's what she wants. Large, noisy, public gobs of compensation that will lift her out of her obscurity into the limelight—that will make her seem big and powerful by making you look little and weak.

That's why the scandal-monger lies. That's why she wants you to fight back. And that's why you WON'T—if you've the sense God gave a wood tick.

"TURN THE OTHER CHEEK"—how I despised that admonition when first I read it—and how I've come to value it as the years go on. Never were wiser words uttered. Whether you're a Noble Soul or just a normal human with a yen for revenge—there's the Perfect Plan.

Let the other fellow lie. Let him rage and sneer and sling his mud. He'll do it anyway. That's the way he's made. And you're only playing into his hand of you pay any attention to him.

Turn the other cheek! You've a job to do, a life to live, a trail to follow. There are fair things, and foul, on that trail. Sick things, and well. No matter where you go you'll bump into them. And, lacking a life of their own, they'll try to fatten on yours . . . try to feed their discontent on your pride and enthusiasm, your power and peace of mind.

Don't let them! Life's a big job, and you've just so much energy to spend upon it. Are you going to waste it, instead, fighting ticks and boll-weavils? Not if you're smart, kid. Forget it. TURN THE OTHER CHEEK—AND ON YOUR WAY!

TODAY IN HISTORY

The plot by Guy Fawkes to blow up the British parliament was discovered on Nov. 4, 1605.

Summary of Week's Happenings

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

BY A VOTE of 243 to 181 the house of representatives late Thursday followed the senate's action in approving the administration's "cash-and-carry" revision of the neutrality act and legislation moved swiftly toward release of accumulated munitions of war which were in readiness for delivery to any foreign countries that can come and get them, on a cash basis.

The Ohio delegation in congress voted in decisive opposition to repeal of the arms embargo, the adverse vote being 19 to 4.

By Friday evening the senate and house bills had been brought into agreement, approved and sent to President Roosevelt for his signature, which was to be affixed at noon today.

Congress adjourned its special session at 6:35 Friday night, despite Republican efforts to prolong it, and statesmen were soon homeward bound, with the wishes of the president for "a pleasant Thanksgiving" ringing in their ears.

It is expected that the bill permitting munitions shipments will be in effect by early next week. It forbids American ships to enter belligerent ports in the European area or to sail through combat areas. American citizens are forbidden to travel on belligerent ships.

Changed Attitude.

President Roosevelt and both houses of congress joined, two years ago, in barring U. S. arms shipments to nations at war. Last summer, when Mr. Roosevelt asked repeal of that law, the house of representatives voted modification of the embargo—to permit shipments of "implements of war," such as airplanes, though not of guns and ammunition — but the senate refused to act.

Technically, therefore, the senate merely was amending the House neutrality-revision resolution when it voted embargo repeal last week-end. Thus the senate resolution went, not directly before the house, but first to a joint house-senate conference committee. That gave the house little opportunity to amend the senate version.

Britain and France, with plenty of ships to come and get arms, were pleased. But Germany saw America applying a "two-fold yardstick" to the war. And Russia's foreign minister, in a speech Tuesday, said the result would be to prolong hostilities.

At Home

Radio Rumpus.

The National Association of Broadcasters, representing most U. S. radio stations, implemented its self-imposed code last month with a restriction on the sale of air time for discussion of controversial issues. And some saw in that an effort to gag Michigan's Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, who has devoted much of his Sunday radio hour lately to criticism of President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

No. 1 critic of the code ruling, however, is the President's son Elliott, operator of a network in Texas. Many station owners consider the regulation a "flagrant example of censorship," he said in a recent broadcast over a Canadian station. "Father Coughlon," he added, "is welcome to purchase time to discuss anything he pleases on our facilities just so long as he observes the constitution."

Dies Doings.

"Naw," husky Joseph Curran told the Dies Committee, last week-end, when asked if communists controlled his CIO National Maritime Union. That's a lie, countered brawny William C. McCuistion, ex-communist and ex-NMUer from the same witness stand this week. Then down he stepped, and into the hands of police who wanted him in connection with the slaying of a NMU official in New Orleans. Chairman Dies called the charge an attempt to discredit McCuiston's testimony.

Which Are Worse?

G-Men, after checking U. S. police blotters for the year's first nine months, reported this week that only 7.5% of all persons arrested were women; but that, of the women arrested 1.6% (as against only 1.1% of the men) were charged with murder, 6.6% (as against 5.6% of the men) with assault.

Sudden Deaths Drop.

Despite an increase in U. S. auto travel, the National Safety Council noted this week, traffic fatalities for the first nine months dropped 2% from 1938 to 1939. But that slight improvement in the record, the council warned, might easily be wiped out during the year's remaining weeks of rain, fog, sleet.

War and Business.

Normally, farmers aren't too excited when crops are big, because they assume prices will sag. But this year crops are good and prices are being goaded to a high level by the European war. Thus Chicago market analysts figure farmers have a $8,300,000,000 income in prospect for the year. Except for 1937, that would be the highest in a decade. The demand, for soy beans is especially brisk, because war has cut off shipments from Manchoukuo.

Another boom is blossoming in steel towns. Companies have added 75,000 men in thre months in one of the most rapid pickups in history.

An Opening Field.

A billion dollars worth of goods formerly imported annually from war zones must be made in the U. S. if war continues, merchandise executives estimate. They see a vast field opening, particularly for merchandise designers. In the past manufacturers found it cheaper to get new ideas by importing "samples" and copying. Though pre-war imports will care for demands this Christmas, a shortage is seen next Christmas unless manufacturers get busy.

Staying out of war also is expensive. President Roosevelt said this week he would ask congress for an extra $275,000,000 this fiscal year, which ends next July, to pay for the additional 100,000 soldiers, sailors and G-men being recruited to defend American neutrality.

Abroad

Bear Tracks.

Russia's rubber-stamp parliament, the Supreme Soviet, met in special session this week to welcome into the U. S. S. R. the eastern half of fallen Poland. Main speaker was chubby, moustached Vyacheslaff Molotov, premier and foreign minister.

He said Poland was gone for good, stressed Soviet economic cooperation with Germany, criticized the Allies for waging an "ideological" war, reaffirmed Russian neutrality, expressed a desire for better relations with Japan, slapped at the U. S. and revealed the Russian demands that had kept a Finnish delegation shuttling between Moscow and Helsinki for three weeks.

Fallen Starace.

On the day Germans started bombing Poland, before Britain and France had even declared war, Italy proclaimed her neutrality. Observers saw that stand strengthened this week, at the expense of some strain on the Rome-Berlin axis, when Il Duce gave Italian officialdom the roughest shaking up it had experienced in many a moon.

Particular significance was attached to the removal of Lieut. Gen. Achille Starace from Secretary of the Fascist militia, and of Dino Alfieri from propaganda minister to ambassador awaiting assignment. Both had been widely credited with pro-German tendencies.

Aviation

Death In the Sky.

In a borrowed yellow monoplane, Carl Bivens, 38, Missouri flying instructor, and Ernest Pletch, 29, Indiana barn-storming pilot, took off last week-end from Brookfield, Mo. Near here, 24 hours later, Biven's body was found with two bullet holes in the head. At Bloomington, Ind., that evening, Pletch was forced down and arrested. Police quoted him as confessing he had shot Bivens during a mid-air argument but, after landing to dump the body, couldn't bring himself to go through with his further plan to commit suicide by crashing the plane. Returned to Missouri, he pleaded guilty of murder and was sentenced to life.

Month Aloft.

"To demonstrate the dependability of modern airplanes," Clyde Schlieper and Wes Carroll, both 25, took off from Long Beach, Calif., on Sept. 29 in a $1,800 four-cylinder, 50-horsepower plane. Around and around they flew, for 35,500 miles, snaring fuel and food from a speeding auto—twice from a motor boat—on a dangling rope. Last Sunday they landed, their 30 days and six hours of continuous flight a record for all types of aircraft.

Horsepower Doubled.

With European engineers straining to squeeze more speed from their warplanes, American aeronautical scientists at Langley Field, Va., calmly announced this week that they had found a way to double an airplane engine's horsepower simply by altering its air-cooling system.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Tell us when," Lillian whispered back, "or you'll have two dead dames on your hands. We're deathly allergic to curiosity."

"Sorry," her big husband returned. "but I think you'll either have to die or change your allergy. You mustn't look until we've ordered."

He spoke to the hovering waiter, and for the next two or three minutes we devoted ourselves to the menu. When the waiter had departed, Harry grinned broadly at us.

"Eyes left, but be careful," he said softly.

It was hard to follow the second part of his admonition, but we managed it, giving only a fleeting look at the woman about whom Harry had told us. Then we sat back and let our eyes rove over the room in the careless fashion of idle sightseers, seizing the while several opportunities to send furtive glances in the direction of the disguised woman.

The woman presented a clever get-up, but it in no way compared to the portrayals with which Harry Underwood had endowed himself, Lillian and me.

The woman's reddish blond coiffure was most modishly done, carefully adjusted, but there were signs unmistakable, even to my amateur eyes, that it was a wig. And the make-up, passably clever and designed to make a woman, definitely years past the 30 mark, look as if she had not yet reached it, also betrayed flaws. One detail she shared with us. She also wore thick-lensed glasses which effectually hid her eyes. But from the attitude of the woman, the way her restless hands toyed with the silver, and the quick, bird-like turnings of her head, first in one direction, then in the other, I deduced that she, too, was watching for some person who had not yet come into the restaurant.

"Did you ever see anybody like her, Madge?" Lillian was using her "prison speaking voice," and I did not turn my head.

"No, I never have," I returned. "And yet—"

"Precisely." Lillian returned, still with her muted voice. "That's exactly the same way she affects me. It's as if something indefinable about her was trying to get a message through to me. Just a sec! I'll sound out my revered spouse."

She leaned across me to her husband, still using her "prison voice."

"What about the dame in the blond wig, Harry?" she queried. "Does she look like anybody you ever saw before?"

"Why worry about that now?" he replied, non-committally, but there was something in his voice which made me look at him attentiely, and which also earned him a quick, scrutinizing glance from his wife.

The waiter came up with our hors d'oeuvres, and we discussed them, each of us keeping a wary eye upon the door. When we had finished, Harry leaned back and spoke as if he were continuing the answer he had made to Lillian's query.

"Nevertheless and notwithstanding," he said, "methinks it would be advisable to keep one eye trained upon her when our expected guests heave in sight."

I caught my breath sharply, but his wife was imperturbable.

"Methinks you have ideas concerning the dame," she said.

"Mebbe so, mebbe so," he returned, and patently was about to add something else when the outer door opened and through it came the figures of the man and the woman for whom we had been watching.

"All hands to the guns!" he whispered. "Here come the pirates!"

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, Nov. 5.

Sunday's horoscope is a most propitious one for affairs of the church, clerics and all mystical or spiritual pursuits or avocations. It is a favorable time for deep study of the obscure, occult or psychological aspects of human development. Social matters are interesting but subject to disruption or inharmony.

Those whose birthday it is face a year of splendid opportunity for gaining steady headway through application. However, there may be sudden changes or upsets, perhaps in the social life, demanding perseverance and patience.

A child born on this day may be steady, studious and methodical despite some erratic, restive and impetuous moods.

For Monday, Nov. 6.

Monday's astrological forecast bears testimonies of rather conflicting interests with the attention centered on the affectional, social or festive activities, to the neglect of business. This oversight might cause legal complications, trouble involving signatures or some other irregularity.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of lively social or romantic interest, with courtship, marriage or other convivial celebrations claiming paramount attention. But be wary of affixing the signature carelessly to documents or writings, as fraud and misunderstandings menace.

A child born on this day may be generous, congenial, popular and devoted to romantic or social life rather than business, in which it may be slack or lacking in dependability.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

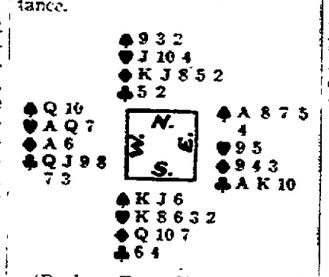
"The Authority on Authorities"

TRY TO SQUARE IT UP

If you have made a careless original pass on a hand that justified a bid, it is your job to try to square yourself later, if you can. Possibly the strongest kind of bidding on your part will do it, but you must really go the limit and perhaps more or else risk the side being in too low a contract because of your early inadvertance.



(Dealer, East. East-West vulnerable.)

Here was a hand on which East made a very bad dealer pass because of lack of concentration, or rather too great interest in the post-mortem on the preceding deal. The bidding, therefore, did not get opened until West called 1-Club, which North somehow decided to overcall with 1-Diamond, East then put all the power he could into his turn by bidding one more than necessary, 2-Spades. West re-bid clubs at three, East showed a fit at 4-Clubs, then West stretched a point in trying 4-No Trumps, the ace asking Blackwood convention. After East showed two with 5-Hearts, West went to 6-No Trumps and South doubled.

A diamond lead would have wrecked this, but North led hearts West won, took the club A and led a small spade from dummy South took the king, but then the contract was assured.

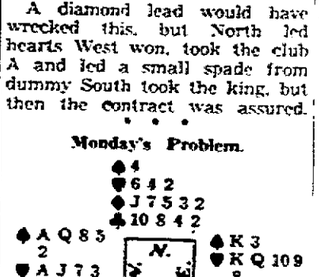
Monday's Problem.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

If South bids 1-Spade here, what should West do?

U. S. OFFICERS ARREST PAIR IN CRAWFORD

Father And Son Jailed On Indictments For Liquor Manufacturing.

BUCYRUS — Federal agents were in Bucyrus Friday to take into custody Boone Emory, 48 and his son Orville, 22, who are under indictment for illegal manufacture of liquor in the state of Kentucky.

The two men, who were taken to Cleveland by the federal agents to be arraigned in federal court, came to Crawford county from Kentucky in June and have been making their home near New Winchester. The elder Emory served a term in the federal prison at Atlanta on the same charge, agents told Sheriff Albert French, who assisted in the arrest.

3 DRIVERS IN COURT

BUCYRUS — Three traffic violators were given hearings in the court of Mayor George Dustman Friday.

Robert Hildebrand, Bucyrus, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of reckless driving, to which a guilty plea was entered.

George Linn pleaded not guilty to the same charge and was found guilty by the court and fined $10 and costs. Five dollars and the costs were suspended.

Warren Willet was given a suspended fine of $10 and costs on a charge of exceeding the city speed limits while driving a truck.

SET UP CLUB

CELERYVILLE—A boy's club has been organized at the local church.

The leader and president is Nicholas Moll, the vice president is Masie Vanderbilt; secretary, Frank Buurma and treasurer, John Van Laar.

Meetings are held weekly. Ethical and religious problems are discussed. There are 23 members ranging from 12 to 15 years of age.

TWO ACCIDENTS

Galion Autos Damaged In Crashes, Drivers Escape.

GALION—Two automobile accidents in Galion caused damage to cars, but no persons were injured, police reported for Friday.

Cars driven by Harvey Tennant and Clarence Beach sideswiped at 9:30 a. m. on East Church street. Tennant was making a left-hand turn into the post office drive, as Beach started to go around the Tennant car. Neither driver was held for investigation.

The second accident occurred when William Sautter was driving south on Market street and attempted to make a left turn in front of another car driven by Harold Monnett. Sautter told police he didn't see Monnett. Cars were damaged slightly, and the drivers were exonerated.

BUCYRUS — The body of B. F. Kramer, 58, wood cutter, who died at his home, 594 Norton Way, Thursday night has been taken to Decatur, Ind., where funeral services are being arranged. The deceased came to Bucyrus from Decatur some time ago. He has no relatives in this vicinity.

FLINT FLYING U. S. FLAG AGAIN

Freighter Captured by Nazis, Placed Back In Hand of American Crew.

Press today they feared the vessel now is "a marked ship" on the seas and expressed doubt concerning her next move.

A woman representative of the Associated Press got aboard and talked with members of the crew.

Advised by the sailors that they were under orders to say nothing, she suggested:

"It would be nice if your families in America got word quickly that you men are all right."

"Tell them we're all right," a spokesman for the crew answered.

Germany Protests Norway's Action.

BERLIN — (AP) — The German charge d'affaires at Oslo protested today to the Norwegian government its internment of the German prize crew from the American freighter City of Flint and release of the vessel to the American crew.

Authorized sources said the protest was "oral and based on the whole procedure of Norwegian authorities in connection with the City of Flint's entry at Huagesund," where the internment and release orders were carried out early today.

These informants intimated that the charge d'affaires soon would leave, or already had left, for Haugesund to make a personal investigation.

There was considerable telephoning between Oslo and Berlin during the night. These sources said there would be "plenty of argument" with the Norweigans in ensuing days.

German authorities said the cargo, including what Germany considers contraband, still was aboard.

Asked whether the German navy might try to seize the City of Flint a second time after she left Norwegian territorial waters, an authorized commentator answered, "Well, it's pretty stormy up there right now."

THEATERS

LOIS WILSON returns to the screen in "Bad Little Angel" after three years on the legitimate stage, and finds that she has to learn screen technique all over again. Miss Wilson had been on the screen continuously since her first big hit in "The Covered Wagon." Three years ago she gave it up to play in the road show of "The Women" . . . Aren't you getting a little fed up on picture titles with "Angel" in them? It started with "Only Angels Have Wings," "Angels With Dirty Faces" and then "Angels Wash Their Faces."

"All Quiet" at Madison.

Lew Ayers is one of the busiest actors in Hollywood, playing goodness knows how many roles a year, but no matter how many he plays or how good they are, the role of Paul Baumer will always be the greatest to him. He played it ten years ago when "All Quiet on The Western Front" was made, and the combination of Remarque's writing genius and Ayers' ability to portray the German soldier who was symbolical of a whole generation of lost youth, made it a character never to be forgotten. Audiences seeing the new, uncensored version of "All Quiet," which was written of the World war, are startled by the appropriateness of the dialogue to this present day.

"Marx Bros. at Circus."

Chicko Marx has played an Italian so long that he is frequently asked if he is an Italian. "No," is the typical Marxian answer, "I just look like one because my father and mother were both Italians." And Harpo isn't a mute, he just acts that way. Nor does Groucho have a big black mustache. "And we aren't crazy, either," he explains carefully, "but everyone else is." Chicko's piano playing is the marvel of musicians everywhere. He took only about a dozen lessons—at 25 cents a lesson—when he was a kid, yet Rachmaninoff never misses a Marx Brothers picture because of Chicko's playing. Kenny Baker and Florence Rice add romance to the Mad Marxian comedy, which is at the Ohio.

"In Name Only."

The triple-starred "In Name Only" heads the bill at the Park tomorrow and the first half of the week. Carole Lombard, Kay Francis and Cary Grant are seen in this drama of a beautiful woman who married one man for his money while loving another and who played the martyr in order to win his parents away from him, and make her position secure. It is a psychological study in which the author plays chess with the lives of three people. "Goldwyn Follies," in technicolor has Adolphe Menjou, Kenny Baker, Andrea Leeds, Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Helen Jepson and Zorina.

Andy Gets the Fever.

Andy Hardy's best girl has a rival in "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever" but at the same time gives that brash young man something to think about in the way of a new young man in Carvel. And to complicate the family affairs Judge Hardy bites like a sucker on a phoney aluminum scheme, and the crooks leave town with his and his friend's money. Helen Gilbert, a new beauty in pictures and formerly a musician in the M-G-M orchestra, plays the school teacher who stirs Andy's heart. Mickey Rooney is Andy, of course, and Lewis Stone is Judge Hardy. It's at the Ritz.

John Garfield Starred.

Dyed-in-the-wool melodrama and love interest which is not permitted to catch up with itself for some time are the entertainment elements in "Panama Lady," a Majestic attraction. In the cast are Lucille Ball, Allan Lane, Steffi Duna and Evelyn Brent. The top attraction on the double bill is "They Made Me a Criminal," in which John Garfield, Ann Sheridan, Claude Rains, May Robson and the Dead End Kids are featured. Garfield plays a boxer who is forced to run away and hide on an Arizona fruit ranch. There is a Jimmy Valentine climax in which he reveals his identity through his own skill, and in order to save some one he loves.

BEAT HUNTER!

As good Democrats we wish to rid the Party and city of Hunter. HE BROKE HIS PLEDGES, in his 1937 platform of HONESTY, EFFICIENCY, LOWER GAS RATES, STAND FOR THE PEOPLE and FRIEND OF LABOR. (N-J 8,-9, 37)

HIS ADMINISTRATION LACKED HONESTY AND EFFICIENCY, and the people showed their resentment when they turned down his water and sewer bond issue.

HE RUNS A WIDE OPEN CITY, although he is a Sunday School Teacher.

In January, 1938 he was too busy to attend a meeting of cities to obtain lower gas rates (NJ 1, 21, 38. June, 1938—instead of vetoing, HE IMMEDIATELY SIGNED A GAS RATE ORDINANCE FOR 65c AVERAGE RATE (Council Journal Vol. L. P. 5) although before the election he stood for 50c rate. A couple of months later HE WAS HONOR GUEST AT A LUNCHEON IN NEW YORK OF THE ELECTRICAL AND GAS ASSOCIATION (NJ 9, 2, 38).

HE DESTROYED THE PRINCIPLE OF CLASSIFIED CIVIL SERVICE when he failed to appoint the highest man on the list to the Police Force (NJ 10, 24, 39). HE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST LABOR, because the high man was a laboring man the Chamber of Commerce did not want.

HE HAS BEEN AT ALL TIMES FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND AGAINST THE PEOPLE WHO ELECTED HIM. In 1938, in appointing Park Commissioners, he "agreed with the Chamber of Commerce recommendations in appointments" (NJ 12, 12, 38. He followed the Chamber of Commerce in trying to TAX YOU for the water and sewer bonds. He followed the stand of the Chamber of Commerce in the police appointment. HAS HE KEPT HIS WORD WITH YOU OR ASKED YOU FOR ANY ADVICE? OF COURSE NOT. YOU ARE ONLY THE PEOPLE WHO ELECTED HIM.

If anyone tries to deny these facts, demand to see the above mentioned News-Journals or Council Journal, which will prove them true.

HUNTER HAD PRACTICALLY ALL HIS CAMPAIGN CARDS PRINTED IN CHICAGO. Look at the union label. WHAT IS WRONG WITH DOING BUSINESS IN MANSFIELD?

Last Thursday at Hedges School he repeatedly said: "The only thing I promise you is an efficient and economical administration." He did not promise honesty.

LEGACY OF LOVE + + + + + +

By KATHRN BEMIS

(Copyright, 1939)

CHAPTER XVII

It was at breakfast on a Sunday morning in the Brewster's patio that she was brought up short with the exact insinuation others were placing on her position here. The guests were milling about, eating pancakes, eggs and sausages; smartly gowned women, correctly tailored men, all bubbling with high spirits, like a flock of eager birds in varicolored plumage reveling in a new spring.

Cora Cliff, wife of Long Beach's wealthiest oil man, put down her coffee cup.

"Of course, Rita," she said loudly, "when you and Roger let us in on what's doing, we'll all do right by you. I'm dying for an excuse to give a special kind of party in our new Arrowhead place. You and Roger could come up for a week-end—and we could plan . . ."

"Thank you," came stiffly from Rita. "But there's—nothing like that. I'm Selia's secretary—that's all."

Rita saw the exchange of glances, the incredulous looks, she heard the politely subdued laughter, knew they didn't believe her. It made her furious. Why did people love to jump at conclusions? She and Roger—it was preposterous!

* * *

She went hastily into the house, pretending to be busy about nothing at all. In the drawing-room she rearranged an already perfectly arranged bowl of pink azaleas, she lighted a lamp on a Louis XV desk, she took a bobby-pin out of the gold curl on her forehead, stuck it back again. She scowled at her flushed cheeks reflected in an elegant eighteenth century mirror.

In the dining-room she nearly collided with Eva Sheen, fresh and radiant in a new plum-colored suit and white felt hat.

She halted Rita with, "Darling—I don't blame you for denying it. It's nobody's business, I say."

She raised the hand wearing the sapphire ring to her hat and gave its brim a forward tug, whether by accident or design Rita was not sure. But it put her on guard.

She drew herself up to her full height. She snapped, "It's—it's absolutely absurd!"

"Oh, here you are, dear."

A chill raced down Rita's spine. The hand lightly but possessively placed on her shoulder, the voice, belonged to Roger Brewster.

Eva bit her lower lip, an expression of amusement registered on her hawklike face. She suddenly accepted a plate of steaming food from a maid, and hurried out to the patio to tell all she knew.

Rita pulled away from Roger, saying tautly, "Roger—why do you persist in trying to make people think . . ."

"Because I'm crazy about you, darling."

She began walking aimlessly toward the library, hoping he would not follow. But he did.

They paused before the fireplace, faced each other squarely.

"I can't go on with it, Roger. Why pretend there's anything between us? I don't love you—you know it. I can't . . ."

Like a flash, he had her in his embrace. She struggled, silently and unsuccessfully.

His lips had just brushed hers when she saw the man standing in the doorway.

"Oh, excuse me!" Tom Cleveland burst out savagely, and immediately disappeared from sight.

Rita gasped, tried to speak. A wave of blankness shot through her. She lay limp in Roger Brewster's arms.

Rita quickly revived. Luckily she and Roger were still alone in the library, the guests preferring the vitamin content of the sunshine out of doors. Roger made her drink black coffee, much of which her unsteady hands caused her to spill down the front of her white flannel slacks.

Impatiently she yanked the crimson handkerchief from the little breast pocket in her white flannel coat, tried to sop up the wetness. But coffee on white flannel was disastrous, and she had to go upstairs and change.

With a little thrill of expectancy, she put on an alluringly feminine whisp of soft blue muslin. The blue ribbon at her throat, the short puffed sleeves and full swinging skirt made her look very young.

Tom—Tom Cleveland was downstairs! He was actually in this house! she would talk to him.

But she was slightly anxious. Roger's arms had been around her, his lips on hers, when Tom happened upon them.

Had Tom been looking for her?

He had! he had! sang her heart And the old soaring gladness that the sight of Tom always invoked now came back at her with a rush Tom! Tom was here!

* * *

She ran downstairs as fast as she dared in her spike-heeled blue pumps, pausing in the lower hall a bare instant to catch her breath But her heart simply wouldn't behave.

In spite of this, she went with high-flung head out to the terrace where most of the guests were now milling about.

Her glance swept the company in swift apprehension. She saw no Tom.

Then she heard a shrill shriek of laughter from Eva Sheen, and wheeled about. There out on the badminton court were Eva and Tom playing with some strangers from San Francisco.

Terry Cleveland, following Rita's glance, linked an arm through hers. "It's great to have old Tom back, isn't it?" he challenged.

"Eva—she probably thinks so," Rita said quickly, trying to sound out this cousin of Tom.

She and Terry were walking toward the court now. "Eva?" he said disdainfully. "Rubbish! Tom could never go Eva—he's got too much good sense."

Some vague burden lifted from Rita's shoulders. She beamed up brightly at Terry. "That's good news," she acknowledged "I thought there might be something between them."

"You did?" Terry laughed loudly. "What a joke! Eva is always in his way—sometimes he can't avoid her."

They had come to the court now, and they dropped down on a stone bench and began watching the game.

Tom, with his back to the bench, apparently was not aware of these newly arrived spectators. Rita's pulse quickened as she watched his strong right arm swing in the air, noted the strength of his long slim body as it crouched and sprang to meet his opponent's play. His sandy hair was ruffled, the bare arms beneath his short-sleeved polo shirt tanned a fascinating brown as dark as his face.

Eva, directly facing Rita, began putting on an act. She rolled her big black eyes at Tom, made her simplest remarks caressing, like those of a woman to her beloved.

Tom, however, seemed to be ignoring her attitude, had his mind strictly on the game. It made Rita wonder. Would an engaged man act like this?

A few minutes more, and the game ended. Eva immediately caught Tom's arm and marched him triumphantly up to the bench.

"Here's Rita—an old friend of yours, Tom," she said, with a giggle. "You had the honor of being her last chauffeur."

It was an unkind dig of which Rita was sharply conscious, but she smiled up bravely at Tom.

She waited an instant for him to erase the scowl from his face, and when he didn't she said, "You play a very good game, Tom. It's—it's nice to see you again."

"Nice to see you, too, Rita," he said stiffly. "I may have been your last chauffeur—but it appears a man can't be last in everything. Other—shall we call it interests—creep in. Pleasant library in this house have to try it myself some time."

He wheeled sharply, led the baffled Eva away.

Rita heard her sing out at Tom as they crossed the lawn, "Have you lost your mind? What's this about a library? You haven't gone literary on me, have you, darling?"

Tom's reply could not be heard by any one but Eva.

* * *

No white lily petals were ever whiter than Rita's cheeks now. Eva had spoken as if Tom belonged to her—just as if . . ."

"What a grouch!" exclaimed Terry. "I've never seen him so out of sorts. What you been doing to him, Rita?"

He peered quizzically down into her pale set face.

She sighed, threw back her shoulders, and got quickly to her feet.

"I—I can't imagine," she told him, far from truthfully.

Tom—misinterpreting that incident a few minutes ago in the library! Tom so ready to believe that what the tabloids used to say about her was true! Rita Rhodes, the incorrigible flirt! Oh—how could he?

"Let's join the others," she said listlessly. "I could do with some food."

MANY funny decisions have been produced by football officials this fall, but about the funniest comes from a high school coach who was asked how his team was getting along . . . "We've lost just one game," he replied. "With the score 0 to 0 near the end of the game, we made a touchdown. We try to pass for the extra point. A guy on the other team intercepts the ball and runs the length of the field for a touchdown. Then they kick the goal and beat us 7 to 6. And do you know, I heard just today that play of theirs ain't legal." . . . . A suggestion that Clark Shaughnessy be retired as head football coach at Chicago appeared in this week's issue of a Maroon school publication. . . The editorials urged that the alumni to be "given enough rope with which polite subsidization of the Harvard variety could be carried on" to prevent recurrence of humiliating defeats . . . First forward pass ever thrown by a Yale player defeated Harvard, 6 to 0, in 1906 . . . Toss was only pass thrown by Yale in the game.

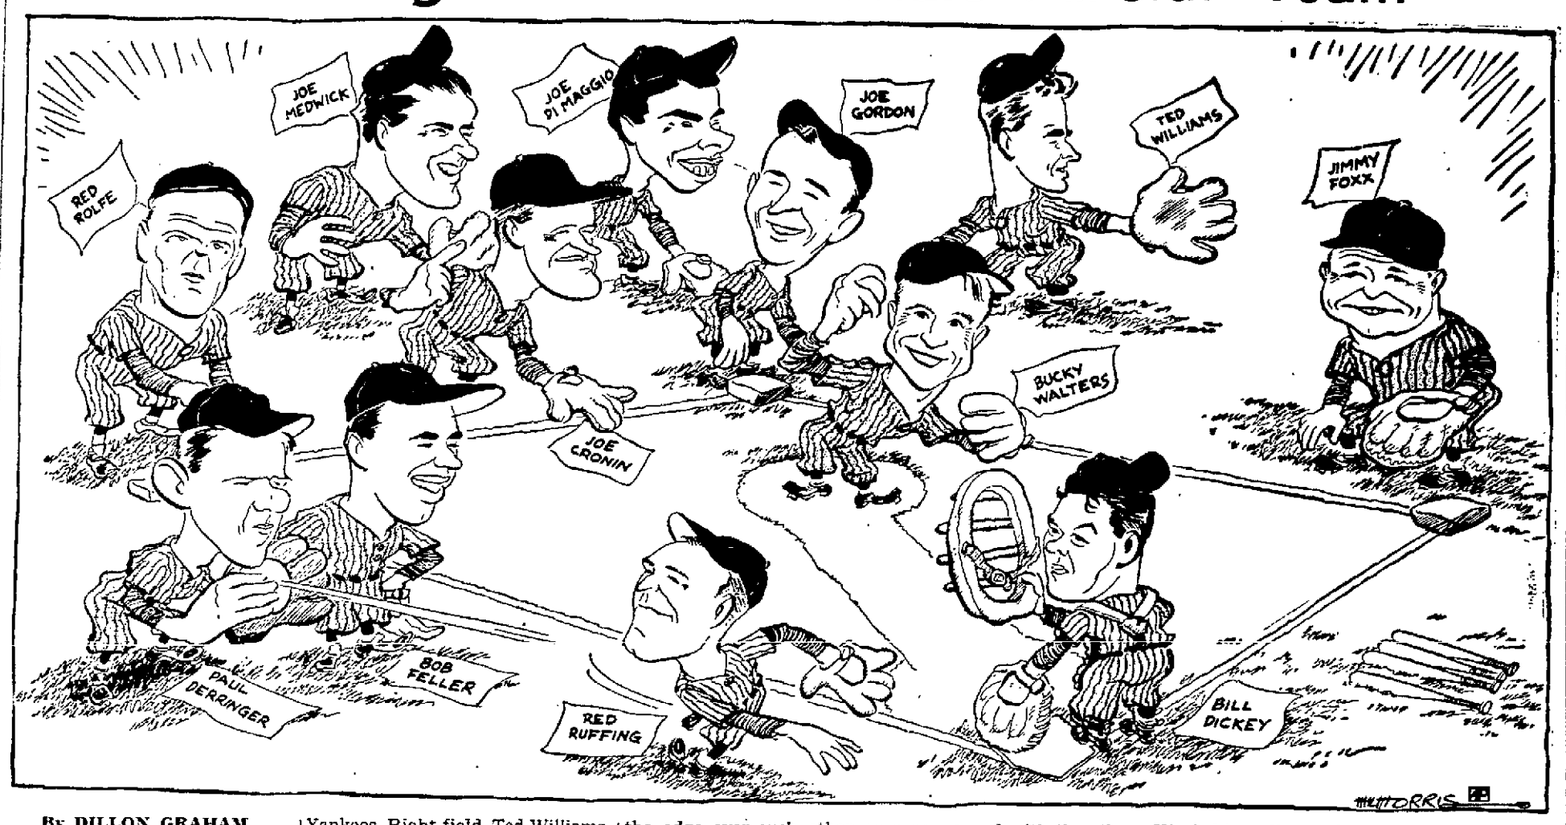
American League Stars Dominate All-Star Team



By DILLON GRAHAM

NEW YORK—(AP)—There are only two easy jobs in choosing an All-Star baseball team; scribbling Joe DiMaggio and Bucky Walters on your ballot.

Then the snipping begins from all sides.

Any sports writer who dares to name a team of aces can probably ward off any objections to Bill Dickey's selection but the arguments will come thick and fast as the other stars are nominated.

But, to dally no longer, here's our idea of the 1939 major league All-Star personnel; First base, Jimmy Foxx, Boston Red Sox, Second base, Joe Gordon, New York Yankees. Shortstop, Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox. Third base, Robert (Red) Rolfe, Yankees. Left Field, Joe Medwick, St. Louis Cardinals. Center field, Joe DiMaggio, Yankees. Right field, Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox. Catcher, Bill Dickey, Yankees. Pitchers, Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer, Cincinnati Reds; Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians and Charles (Red) Ruffing, Yankees.

Here are our reasons: First base: Foxx is one of the marvels of the age. When most veterans are beginning to cool off, Foxx still is at his peak. He won the batting championship in 1938 and was runner-up to DiMaggio this season with a .358 figure. He was out the last few weeks of the season because of an appendectomy, Johnny Mize, wheel-horse of the rampageous St. Louis Cardinals, merits serious consideration because he was National league batting champion. However, his average, .349, isn't as good as Foxx's, and in a full season he drove in only four more runs than Foxx's 105 in an abbreviated campaign. Foxx is a better defensive player. These two get the edge over such other aces as Frank McCormick of the Reds, George McQuinn of the Browns, Hal Trosky of the Indians, Hank Greenberg of the Tigers and Dolph Camilli of the Dodgers.

Second Base: In our book, Gordon is a bit better than Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox, Charles Gehringer of the Tigers, Linus Frey of the Reds, and the others. He can cover more ground than most of them and come up with impossible plays. Both Doerr and Gehringer have outhit him, but Gordon has driven in far more runs.

Shortstop: It's a duel between Joe Cronin, Luke Appling of the White Sox, Jimmy Brown of the Cardinals, and Frank Crosetti of the Yankees. Cronin gets the nomination chiefly because he carries the heaviest bat and is a fighter all down the line. He won't cover ground with the others. Weak hitting removes Crosetti.

Third base: Rolfe is at his peak this year and has a slight margin over Ken Keltner of the Indians. Rolfe led his league in runs, hits and doubles.

* Left Field: This spot gave us our toughest problem and, in a sort of flip-the-coin decision, we picked Medwick over that grand Philadelphia Athletics' veteran, Bob Johnson. Big Bob had his best season with an average of .338 and with 110 runs batted in. Medwick, whose bat helped keep St. Louis in the National league race right down the stretch, hit .333 and knocked in 115 runs.

Center Field: There was no argument—DiMaggio.

Right Field: There were several crack right fielders, some better defensive men than Williams, but a man, even a rookie, who leads both leagues in the important runs-batted-in column can't be left off an All-Star team. Williams hit .327 and knocked in 142 runs.

Catcher: Dickey batted in more runs than any other catcher, hit .303, and was perhaps the best handler of pitchers among the backstops.

* * *

Pitchers: Walters turned in the best National league record since Diz Dean's heyday with the Cards. He won 27, while losing 10. He was more responsible than any other one player in Cincinnati's winning the National league flag. His partner, Derringer, won 25 and lost 7. Paul, with a victory string of 10 straight during the late weeks of a hot campaign, was just as dependable as Walters. Feller, the boy wonder of three years ago, finally reached his peak. He won 24 games and lost 9. And for the fourth straight year Red Ruffing won more than 20 games for the Yankees. His mark was 21 and 7.

Scores Winning Touchdown In Final Seconds

Rams Surprise Heretofore Unbeaten Bluejays With Smashing Ground Attack Before 3,000.

By CHARLES MARTIN

GRIDIRON WARRIORS who performed for Madison high under the floodlights in the annual homecoming game at Madison field last night may never have an opportunity to strut their stuff before the cameras, but the way they blasted Bellville from the list of unbeaten and untied Ohio elevens would have made a real "movie finish" for a football screen production.

Approximately 3,000 gasping spectators, the largest gathering ever to witness a tussle on the suburban greensward, watched Robert Heichel leap high into the air to snag Bob Matthes' soaring aerial in the end zone in the final 30 seconds and give the Rams a thrilling 13 to 7 victory over the favored Bluejays.

Heichel pulled down the pass amid two Bellville players and immediately was swarmed under by happy teammates. That his brother, Bill Heichel converted the extra point on a plunge was incidental. The touchdown play traveled 11 yards.

Coach Al Fendrick's inspired combine, trailing by a 7 to 0 count at half time, waited until the final period before staging its touchdown marches which spelled victory.

Co-capt. Howard "Tick" Hamilton, the Bluejays star ball packer, was a marked man last night, but managed to break loose long enough to tally his team's lone marker in the second period.

Hamilton, the state's leading individual scorer, converted the extra point from placement to hike his season's total to 125 points, 17 points ahead of Hillis Hume of Alliance.

Madison, underdog in its annual setto with the neighboring city club, gave the Bluejay rooters' a scare in the opening period when it marched to the invaders' one-foot stripe before losing the pigskin on downs. Bill Folmer, who was a standout on the Madison line set the stage for the drive by blocking one of Hamilton's punts on the Bellville 30 and then recovering it.

The Rams same roaring back to the Bluejays' 20, early in the second quarter, but Bellville gained possession of the ball on its own 20 to halt the drive.

A few minutes later Bellville started its lone touchdown march.

Bob Heichel — Bob Matthes

Hamilton's punt was partially blocked by the hard-charging Madison forward wall and Russ Leedy recovered on the Madison 48. Dick Keiser and Hamilton packed the ball to the Rams' 33.

Then Don Palm tossed a basketball pass to Co-capt. Bill Martin, who lateraled to Hamilton on the Rams' 25 and the fleet-footed back scampered over standing up.

That was the last time Bellville set a cleat inside the Madison 30-yard line.

Madison had the Bluejays on their heels throughout the third period but fumbles and penalties kept the winners from crossing over into pay dirt. Once, near the end of the chapter, Doug DeNero, who practically ripped the Bellville line to shreds, knifed his way to the 10, but a penalty and a fumble ended the march.

* * *

Capt. Bill Heichel spotted the Rams to its first touchdown early in the final frame. It started after Hamilton punted to the Madison 33. Four first downs placed the ball on the Bellville five, and three plays later Heichel went over from the two-yard stripe.

Bellville still had hopes of emerging with the win after DeNero fumbled on the try for the points, the ball being recovered by a swarm of Bluejay players.

But Madison was not to be denied. With some five minutes remaining, Hamilton punted to midfield and the Rams were underway for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

The Fendrick-coached aggregation pounded the center of the Bellville line to shreds and marked up three downs to reach the losers' 11. Matthes missed connection on his first pass to Bud Barber, and then came the aerial that Heichel gathered in behind the goal line. Howard Hamilton and Keiser tried to break up the play, but Heichel was too fast for them.

Madison held an edge in practically every department. The Rams collected 16 first downs to six for Bellville. Incidentally, the Bluejays, who were seeking Victory No. 8, chalked up only one first down after the intermission.

Fendrick's proteges piled up 252 yards from rushing while Bellville was marking up 159. The Bluejays held the edge in the passing department, completing two of three attempts. Madison connected for three in nine tries.

The defensive work of Russ Leedy was one of the highlights of the contest. The end caused the Ram backs a lot of trouble when ever they attempted to circle Bellville's left flank.

Bellville had three more chances to at least tie the score on the following kickoff. Madison kicked

* * *

Galion, who shared the title last year with Shelby, fought the unbeaten invaders on even terms in the opening period. But from there on it was all Marion. Durtschi tallied for Galion in the opening stanza to knott the score at 6-all. Roberts scored Marion's initial marker.

Marion has chalked up seven victories this year, the only smear on its record is a 7 to 7 tie with Piqua.

Interception Costs Massillon Shutout

MASSILLON — (NS)—Marching to their 21st straight victory by crushing Canton Lehman, 47 to 6, before 10,000 fans last night, the Massillon Tigers stood out today as perhaps the greatest high school team in the country.

The Canton eleven was saved from a shutout when Fullback Santora snared a Massillon pass and raced 70 yards to a touchdown in the third quarter.

It was the eighth win of the season for Massillon and they raised their scoring total to 402 points, while their goal line has been crossed only three times, twice by Cathedral Latin of Cleveland and once by Canton Lehman.

BIMELECH FAVORED

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Pimlico's futurity, with a purse expected to gross around $40,000, drew nine fast performers postward today, headed by Col. E. R. Bradley's undefeated Bimelech.

HUNTINGTON — (AP) — Two Huntington high school football players, Robert Fulwiler and Robert Hunt, both 17, were in a hospital today with injuries suffered in a contest yesterday with Portsmouth (Ohio) high school. Fulwiler, whose condition was described as serious, suffered a basal skull fracture and fracture of a neck vertebrae. Hunt suffered brain concussion.

Willard Again Handed Defeat

Losers Threaten Only Once As Port Clinton Wins.

WILLARD — Seven games have been erased from the Willard high school grid schedule, and the Railroaders have yet to win their first contest.

Coach Dave Query's pigskin chasers suffered their fifth defeat on the home field last night when they bowed to Port Clinton, 17 to 0.

It was the sixth game this season in which the Railroaders have failed to score.

W. Cedoz passed to Davids for the first touchdown in the second period, and the latter raced five yards for the other touchdown in the final period after the Sailors had been given four points on two safeties.

The first safety came when Punter Sands fumbled, the ball rolling behind the end zone. A blocked punt gave the Sailors their other safety.

Willard, which was outgained 283 yards to 115, threatened only once. That was in the first period when the Railroaders pulled a "slicker" play to go 55 yards with Sands on the ball carrying end. Sands then went to the two on a triple reverse, and there Willard lost the ball on downs. The first downs favored the visitors, 12 to 2.

Harris' 52-Yard Run Features Mt. Vernon Triumph.

MT. VERNON—Failing to score in only the second period, the Mt. Vernon Jackets drove to a 26 to 0 victory over Bucyrus in an N. C. O. conference game here last night.

It was the first victory for the Jackets on their home field this season, and only the second triumph of the campaign.

* * *

Mt. Vernon, which held a 13 to 6 edge in first downs, scored twice in the opening period. A 52-yard run by Harris featured the first touchdown drive, climaxed by Crumrine's plunge from the two. Johnson plowed over for the second score from the five after the Jackets recovered a Bucyrus fumble on the 30.

* * *

A Crumrine-to-Johnson pass, which netted 50 yards, produced the third period score. Harris added the extra point with his foot. With reserves in the lineup, the Jackets scored the final touchdown in the last period, Wright passing to Scarf for the touchdown and extra points.

Bucyrus never threatened once as virtually all of the play was confined to the visitors' territory.

Pitching Battle Looms For Sunday

CLEVELAND — Cleveland stadium, scene of many a great pitching battle, will house another Sunday afternoon when the Cleveland Rams entertain Chicago's Cardinals in a National Football league contest.

Batteries for the game will be Parker Hall and Jim Benton for the Rams, Jack Robbins and Bill Smith for the Cardinals.

Robbins in his heyday at the University of Arkansas with the Rams Jim Benton for a receiver, tossed the Arkansas eleven to the Southwest Conference championship. Last year his accurate heaving cost the Rams both of their games with the Cardinals.

DODDS PACES WIN

SOPHOMORE TACKLE LOST TO BUCKS FOR SEASON

COLUMBUS—(NS)—Ohio State university's Big Ten title hopes suffered a severe setback today with the announcement that Jim Piccinini, husky sophomore tackle, probably would see no more action this season.

Piccinini suffered a thigh injury in the Northwestern game and has been on the inactive list since that time.

Supplies Face More Trouble In McKeesport

Mansfield Team Meets Club Which Held Awnings to Two Touchdowns.

Anxious to regain the winning stride that produced five straight victories, Coach Earl McMullen's Automotive Supplies completed preparations yesterday for their invasion of McKeesport, Pa., where they play Sunday.

Beaten 25 to 0 last Sunday by the South Akron Awnings, the Supplies face another tough assignment in McKeesport.

The McKeesport club were also defeated by the Awnings, but made a more impressive showing against Akron, losing by a 13 to 0 count.

A tricky aerial offense was featured by the Pennsylvanians in the Akron game. Coach McMullen has learned. It was the Supplies pass defense department which received the most consideration in workouts this week.

* * *

The Supplies also expect to make it uncomfortable for McKeesport with an air attack of their own. Virtually all of the backs took their turn at tossing the leather in workouts.

The Supplies will leave early Sunday at 7 p. m. for McKeesport.

Save Gridder's Life By Amputation of Leg

PRINCETON, N. J.—(NS)—Donald Grant Herring Jr., Princeton varsity tackle reacted favorably today following amputation of his left leg just above the knee. Herring was injured last Saturday in the football game with Brown and the amputation of his leg was necessary to save his life.

The operation was performed by Dr. Robert W. Johnson, jr., of Johns Hopkins hospital. After the operation Dr. Johnson, an old graduate of Princeton himself said: "Mr. Herring had a perfectly grand attitude before the operation and stood it well."

Between 80 and 100 million acres of marsh land have been drained in the United States. How much wild life that drainage has destroyed cannot be computed.

This is a good time to recall again several of the cardinal rules for safe hunting. Don't pull a loaded gun through a fence. Never point a gun at anything you do not wish to shoot. Guard against snow or mud getting into the end of your gun barrel; it may damage the barrel or worse. And last, but not least, don't shoot until you're sure.

Only about 80 acres of virgin pine forest remain in Michigan, where white pine was once said to be "inexhaustible."

MADISON TOPS BELLVILLE IN 'MOVIE FINISH'

off and Hamilton was snowed under on the Bellville 40. Players and fans began leaving the field when Umpire Paul Snyder called the play back, ruling Madison's right guard off side.

On the next kick the ball failed to travel 10 yards and Madison had to repeat. The last time the Rams kicked to midfield and Arthur Ruhl of Bellville fumbled, the play ending on the Madison 48.

The Ram triumph marked the second time in two seasons Madison has wrecked an undefeated season for the Bellville club. Madison won, 13 to 6, at Bellville last fall.

Pretty Dorothy Sloan, who was selected as Homecoming queen this week by Madison students, was introduced to the fans in front of the Rams' bleachers at the half and presented with a bouquet of flowers by Miss Nellie Reader, Madison teacher.

Devils Rally, Defeat Butler

Danville Stage Comeback Late In Game to Win.

BUTLER—A last-period touchdown cost the Bulldogs of Butler high their chances of registering a victory here yesterday afternoon before a homecoming crowd estimated at 500.

Butler, fighting to score its initial triumph in eight starts, held a slim 7 to 6 advantage midway in the final period by virture of a first quarter touchdown pass, but the Danville Blue Devils drove 45 yards in the fading minutes of the game to win. Senft scored from the two yard line.

* * *

Stahl snagged Capt. Bob Arnold's 19-yard pass in the end zone to spot Butler to a 7-0 lead in the opening chapter. Arnold added the point on a plunge.

Danville came back in the second stanza and drove 29 yards to tally its first marker. H. Miller sliced through center for the touchdown. Mizer's knick was low.

Butler battled desperately to ward off the Blue Devils' goalward thrusts, but was unable to halt the hard-running Danville backs in that final drive. Danville had 11 first downs to Butler's six.

The homecoming queen, Betty Alexander, was presented a bouquet of flowers by Capt. Arnold and was then escorted to her throne.

WINS OVER ARIZMENDI, ANGOTT SEEKS TITLE GO

CHICAGO —(NS)— With the scalp of Alberto "Baby" Arizmendi added to his collection, rugged Sammy Angott of Louisville looked forward today to a title match with Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers.

Angott established himself as the No. 1 challenger for the crown of either Ambers or the welterweight titleholder Henry Armstrong, by dealing the veteran Los Angeles fighter a severe 10-round lacing in the Chicago stadium last night.

WYATT 'OUT OF DANGER' AFTER KNEE OPERATION

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Whitlow Wyatt, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, was on the "out of danger" list today at the Johns Hopkins hospital after a successful knee operation yesterday. Injured in a collision with Lonnie Frey in a game at Cincinnati, Wyatt was forced to give up pitching in mid-season this year.

The operation was performed by Dr. George P. Bennett after consultation with Wyatt and Dodger Boss Larry MacPhail.

Budge Shelves Racquet For 'Hotter' Piano

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—Don Budge, peer of the tennis pros, is shelving his hot racquet for a hotter piano.

"I've always liked swing music and this winter I'm going to learn to play boogie woogie piano—which means hot," Budge said.

"I made a deal. Joe Sullivan, piano player with Bob Crosby's band, is going to teach me to bang those ivories and I'm going to teach him to play tennis."

Ashland Upset By Holbrook

DeSales Keeps Record Clean By Trimming Ferris.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Playing its first season of football, De Sales college of Toledo rolled along today as one of the two unbeaten-untied elevens in Ohio after a 6 to 0 triumph over Ferris Institute of Big Rapids, Mich.

The win yesterday was the fifth straight for the sailors who close their season against Grand Rapids on Armistice day.

* * *

John Carroll's Blue Streaks, the state's other "perfect" team for the season, will be pressed to stay that way against Toledo today in an important contest at Cleveland. Carroll has won four straight.

Little Alfred Holbrook college registered its first college victory of the season last night by defeating Ashland, 13 to 6. Ashland piled up 15 first downs to Holbrooks's six but two pass interceptions led to both Holbrook touchdowns. McCilty intercepted Poe's toss on the Ashland 35 in the last period and raced for the winning score.

The defeat was Ashland's fourth against two victories. Holbrook has lost four games, played two scoreless ties and beaten Ashland and the army team of Fort Thomas, Ky.

LEGAL NOTICE

John Nottom and Frances Nottom, whose last known place of residence and address was Route 2, Clayton, Wisconsin, will take notice that on October 6, 1939, the undersigned filed his petition in The Common Pleas Court of Richland County, Ohio, alleging that the above named defendants have or claim to have an interest in the following described real estate:

Situated in the County of Richland, in the State of Ohio, and in the City of Mansfield and bounded and described as follows: Being lot number Thirty-seven Hundred and ninety-nine (3799) of the consecutive numberings of inlots to the City of Mansfield, Ohio.

The undersigned further alleges that he and his predecessors in title have held the open, notorious, adverse, exclusive, continuous and actual possession of said premises for more than 21 years last past; that defendants, John Nottom and Frances Nottom, signed a quit-claim deed to plaintiff for such interest on or about May 13, 1939, but failed to appear before a Notary Public for acknowledgment of the signatures and did not have the same witnessed by two witnesses as required by law. Plaintiff has ever since sought to have this omission corrected, but with due diligence has been unable to find or contact said defendants, and that said deficiency is a cloud upon plaintiff's title to these premises.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants and each of them may be lawfully notified of the pendency of this action and duly summoned to appear and answer herein, setting forth the nature and extent of their several claims in and to the real estate hereinbefore described; and that the Court may adjudge all of said claims to be illegal and void; that the plaintiff's title to all the premises above described may be quieted, and that the plaintiff may be found and adjudged to be the owner in fee simple of said premises and that the defendants, and each of them, and any and all persons claiming under them, may be forever enjoined and debarred from hereafter asserting any right, title, interest, claim or demand in, or to, said premises or any part thereof, and for such other and further relief as is proper.

That the defendants are required to answer by November 18, 1939, and this cause will be for hearing on or any time thereafter.
